

This file contains 890 lines from my private collection beginning with the letter "E". More to follow in due time. Enjoy!

THE SUPERLIST OF FUN LINES AND FAMOUS QUOTATIONS

10th. revised edition

Compiled by Christer Sundqvist 1987-2005

Christer Sundqvist
Neptunuksenkatu 3
FIN-21600 PARAINEN
FINLAND
TEL: int +358-40-7529274
e-Mail: christer.sundqvist@wakkanet.fi

Earth and sky, woods and fields, lakes and rivers, the mountain and the sea, are excellent schoolmasters, and teach some of us more than we can ever learn from books. John Lubbock

Some fun lines and famous quotations

Each bird loves to hear himself sing. James Howell

Each cursed his fate that thus their project crossed; / How hard their lot who neither won nor lost!
Richard Graves (1715-1804)

Each day comes bearing gifts. Untie the ribbons.

Each day I try to enjoy something from each of the four food groups: the bonbon group, the salty-snack group, the caffeine group, and the "whatever-the-thing-in-the-tinfoil-in-the-back-of-the-fridge-is" group.

Each day is a little life: every waking and rising a little birth, every fresh morning a little youth, every going to rest and sleep a little death. Arthur Schopenhauer (1788-1860)

Each friend represents a world in us, a world not born until they arrive, and it is only by this meeting that a new world is born. Anais Nin

Each game of chess means there's one less variation left to be played. Each game got through means one or two less mistakes remain to be made.

Each generation produces its squad of "moderns" with peashooters to attack Gibraltar. Channing Pollock

Each has his past shut in him like the leaves of a book known to him by his heart, and his friends can only read the title. Virginia Woolf

Each individual misfortune, to be sure, seems an exceptional occurrence; but misfortune in general is the rule. Arthur Schopenhauer (1788-1860)

Each man has his own vocation; his talent is his call. There is one direction in which all space is open to him. Ralph Waldo Emerson

Each man is led by his own liking. Virgil

Each man of us is living his own personal work of art, and cannot evade artistic responsibility for his product. Richard McKenna

Each man should frame life so that at some future hour fact and his dreamings meet. Victor Hugo

Each man takes care that his neighbor shall not cheat him. But a day comes when he begins to care that he does not cheat his neighbor. Then all goes well. He has changed his market-cart into a chariot of the sun. Ralph Waldo Emerson (1803-1882)

Each mind is pressed, and open every ear, to hear new tidings, though they no way joy us. Edward Fairfax

Each of the masterpieces is a purification of the world, but their common message is that of their existence and the victory of each individual artist over his servitude, spreading like ripples on the sea of time, implementing art's eternal victory over the human situation. André Malraux (1901-1976)

Each of us bears his own Hell.

Each of us finds lucidity only in those ideas that are in the same state of confusion as his own. Marcel Proust

Each of us has a spark of life inside us, and our highest endeavor ought to be to set off that spark in one another. Kenny Ausubel

Each of us tends to think we see things as they are, that we are objective. But this is not the case.

We see the world, not as it is, but as we are - or as we are conditioned to see it. Stephen Covey

Each one has his destiny, and he cannot change it. Spanish Saying

Each one has written us a good dog and a bad dog. Which one rules depends on which one gets fed.

Each one knows his own account, and God knows everyone's. Moya

Each one lives as he can, or as they let him live. Spanish Saying

Each one of us has a fire in our heart for something. It's our goal in life to find it and keep it lit.

Mary Lou Retton

Each one of us is a statistical impossibility around which hove a million other lives that were never destined to be born. Loren Eiseley

Each one sees what he carries in his heart. Johann Wolfgang von Goethe

Each person has inside a basic decency and goodness. If he listens to it and acts on it, he is giving a great deal of what it is the world needs most. Pablo Casals

Each problem has hidden in it an opportunity so powerful that it literally dwarfs the problem. The greatest success stories were created by people who recognized a problem and turned it into an opportunity. Joseph Sugarman

Each problem solved introduces a new unsolved problem.

Each problem that I solved became a rule which served afterwards to solve other problems. René Descartes

Each time a person stands up for an ideal, or acts to improve the lot of others... they send forth a ripple of hope, and crossing each other from a million different centers of energy and daring, those ripples build a current that can sweep down the mightiest walls of oppression and resistance. Robert F. Kennedy

Each time an experimental result shows some contraction in an existing theory, progress is in sight, because then a change and improvement of the theory becomes necessary. Max Planck

Each time dawn appears, the mystery is there in its entirety. René Daumal

Each work of art excludes the world, concentrates attention on itself. For the time it is the only thing worth doing- to do just that; be it a sonnet, a statue, a landscape, an outline head of Caesar, or an oration. Presently we return to the sight of another that globes itself into a whole as did the first, for example, a beautiful garden; and nothing seems worth doing in life but laying out a garden. Ralph Waldo Emerson (1803-1882)

Each year, one vicious habit rooted out, in time ought to make the worst man good. Benjamin Franklin (1706-1790)

Eagles may soar, but weasels don't get sucked into jet engines. John Benfield

Eagles may soar, free and proud, but weasels never get sucked into jet engines.

Earlier people used to switch on TV's after getting bored with their routine works. Now they switch on to routine works after getting bored with TV. B. J. Gupta

Early in life I had learned that if you want something, you had better make some noise. Malcolm X (1925-1965)

Early in my business career I learned the folly of worrying about anything. I have always worked as hard as I could, but when a thing went wrong and could not be righted, I dismissed it from my mind. Julius Rosenwald

Early morning cheerfulness can be extremely obnoxious. William Feather

Early to bed and early to rise and it probably means your TV set is being repaired. Louis A. Safian

Early to bed and early to rise and it's a sure sign that you don't care for the Late, Late Shows. Louis A. Safian

Early to bed and early to rise and you never meet any prominent people. Carl Sandburg (1878-1967)

Early to bed and early to rise and you remain an unskilled employee.

Early to bed and early to rise, And you wake up with a family of a pretty big size. Kathleen Lorbier

Early to bed and early to rise and you wear what belongs to the other guys.

Early to bed and early to rise and you'll miss some of the most interesting people. Louis A. Safian

Early to bed and early to rise and you'll never see red in the whites of your eyes. Louis A. Safian

Early to bed and early to rise and you'll remain an unskilled employee. Louis A. Safian

Early to bed and early to rise and your gal goes out with other guys. Louis A. Safian

Early to bed and early to rise and your neighbors will wonder why you can't get a job with better hours. Louis A. Safian

Early to bed and early to rise doesn't make a girl a friend of the guys. Louis A. Safian

Early to bed and early to rise gives a guy reason for hiding his eyes.

Early to bed and early to rise makes a man a farmer. Evan Esar

Early to bed and early to rise, makes a man healthy, wealthy, and wise. Benjamin Franklin

Early to bed and early to rise makes a man not watch T.V. George Monteiro

Early to bed and early to rise makes a man tired.

Early to bed and early to rise makes a poor bridge player. Louis A. Safian

Early to bed and early to rise makes sure you get out before her husband arrives. Rowland B. Wilson

Early to bed and early to rise / Makes woman healthy, wealthy, and wise. / Live while you live, and live to grow old, / And so keep the doctor from getting your gold, / And the sexton from putting you under the mould. R. H. Busk

Early to bed and early to rise makes you healthy, but socially a washout. Louis A. Safian

Early to bed and early to rise probably indicates unskilled labor. John Ciardi (1916-1986)

Early to bed and early to rise / Will make you miss all regular guys. George Ade (1866-1944)

Early to bed, and you'll wish you were dead. / Bed before eleven, nuts before seven. Dorothy Parker (1893-1967)

Early to bed, early to rise and your girl goes out with the other guys.

Early to bed, early to rise: dull isn't it? American Proverb

Early to bed, early to rise, makes a man healthy, wealthy, and horny. James G. Zander & Thomas Nelson

Early to bed, early to rise, moderate exercise.

##Early to bed, Early to rise; Never get tight, And advertise. Timothy Eaton

Early to bed, early to rise, While your date goes out with the other guys.

Early to bed - makes you healthy, wealthy and boring.

Early to rise and early to bed makes a male healthy and wealthy and dead. James Thurber (1894-1961)

Early to rise and early to bed makes a man healthy and wealthy and dead.

Early to rise, early to bed, makes a man healthy but socially dead. Anamaniacs

Early to wed, early dead.

Earn but don't burn. B. J. Gupta

Earn cash in your spare time - blackmail friends.

Earth and sky, woods and fields, lakes and rivers, the mountain and the sea, are excellent schoolmasters, and teach some of us more than we can ever learn from books. John Lubbock

Earth hath no sorrow that heaven cannot heal. Thomas Moore

Earth is a great funhouse without the fun. Jeff Berner

Earth is but the frozen echo of the silent voice of God. Samuel M. Hageman

Earth, thou great footstool of our God, who reigns on high; thou fruitful source of all our raiment, life, and food; our house, our parent, and our nurse. Isaac Watts

Ease and speed in doing a thing do not give the work lasting solidity or exactness of beauty. Plutarch

Easiest way to figure the cost of living: Take your income and add ten percent.

East or west, home is best.

Easy come, easy go.

Eat a live toad in the morning and nothing worse will happen to you for the rest of the day.

Eat a live toad in the morning and nothing worse will happen to you that day.

Eat an apple going to bed - make the doctor beg his bread.

Eat an apple on going to bed, And you'll keep the doctor from earning his bread. English Proverb

Eat and drink with your relatives; do business with strangers. Greek Proverb

Eat at pleasure, drink by measure.

Eat drink and be merry.

Eat drink and be merry, for tomorrow it might be illegal.

Eat one live toad the first thing in the morning and nothing worse will happen to you the rest of the day.

Eat right, exercise regularly, die anyway.

Eat right Stay fit Die anyway. (Bumper Sticker)

Eat till you sweat and work till you freeze.

Eat to live, and not live to eat. Benjamin Franklin & Vincent Stuckey Lean (1820-1899)

Eat to please thyself, but dress to please others. Benjamin Franklin

Eat well, drink in moderation, and sleep sound, in these three good health abound. Latin Proverb

Eat well is drink well's brother.

Eat Well, Stay Fit, Die Anyway.

Eat when you're hungry, and drink when you're dry. English Proverb

Eat yogurt and get culture.

Eating and drinking wants but a beginning. James Kelly

Eating and scratching want but a beginning. Romanian Proverb

Eating and scratching wants but a beginning. David Fergusson

Eating while seated makes one of large size; eating while standing makes one strong. Hindu Proverb

Eating words has never given me indigestion. Sir Winston Leonard Spencer Churchill (1874-1965)

Ecology is the study of who eats whom.

Economic compulsion determines ethical perspective. Lawrence L. Hirsch

Economics is extremely useful as a form of employment for economists.

Economics is the only calling in which one can have a lifetime reputation as an expert without ever once being right.

Economist: A man who states the obvious in terms of the incomprehensible. Alfred A. Knopf

Economy is a savings-bank, into which men drop pennies, and get dollars in return. Josh Billings (1815-1885)

Economy is a way of spending money without getting any pleasure out of it. Armand Salacrou

Economy is for the poor; the rich may dispense with it. Christian Nestell Bovee

Economy makes men independent.

Edged tools are dangerous things to handle, and not infrequently do much hurt. Agnes Repplier

Editing is a rewording activity.

Editor: A person employed on a newspaper whose business it is to separate the wheat from the chaff, and to see that the chaff is printed. Elbert Hubbard

Education and intelligence aren't the same thing!

Education can train, but not create, intelligence. Edward McChesney Sait

Education confers understanding, knowledge, and competence; schools confer degrees.

Education consists in pounding abstract ideas into concrete heads.

Education consists mainly in what we have unlearned. Mark Twain (1835-1910)

Education costs money, but then so does ignorance. Sir Claus Moser

Education helps earning capacity. Ask any college professor.

Education is a better safeguard of liberty than a standing army. Edward Everett

Education is a method whereby one acquires a higher grade of prejudice. Laurence J. Peter

Education is a progressive discovery of our ignorance. Will Durant

Education is a social process ... Education is growth.... Education is, not a preparation for life; education is life itself. John Dewey

Education is a vaccine for violence. Edward James Olmos

Education is an admirable thing, but it is well to remember from time to time that nothing that is worth knowing can be taught. Oscar Wilde

Education is an admirable thing, but nothing that is worth knowing can be taught. Oscar Wilde

Education is learning a lot about how little you know.

Education is not filling a bucket, but lighting a fire. William Butler Yeats

Education is not the filling of a pail, but the lighting of a fire. William Butler Yeats

Education is that which discloses to the wise and disguises from the foolish their lack of understanding. Ambrose Bierce

Education is that which enables you to get into more intelligent trouble.

Education is the ability to listen to almost anything without losing your temper or your self-confidence. Robert Frost (1874-1963)

Education is the art of making man ethical. Georg Hegel (1770-1831)

Education is the best provision for old age. Aristotle (384-322 BC)

Education is the fire-proofer of emotions. Frank Crane

Education is the period during which you are being instructed by somebody you do not know, about something you do not want to know. Gilbert K. Chesterton

Education is the process of casting false pearls before real swine.

Education is the process of driving a set of prejudices down your throat. Martin H. Fischer

Education is too important to be left solely to the educators. Francis Keppel

Education is what remains when we have forgotten all that we have been taught. George Savile

Education is what survives when what has been learnt has been forgotten. B. F. Skinner

Education is what you get from reading the fine print. Experience is what you get from not reading it.

Education makes a people easy to lead, but difficult to drive; easy to govern but impossible to enslave. Lord Henry Peter Brougham

Education makes machines which act like men and produces men who act like machines. Erich Fromm (1900-1980)

Education pays - unless you are the educator. Mary Woodruff

Education should include knowledge of what to do with it.

Education: That which discloses to the wise and disguises from the foolish their lack of understanding. Ambrose Bierce

Education, then, beyond all other devices of human origin, is the great equalizer of the conditions of men, the balance-wheel of the social machinery. Horace Mann

Education with inert ideas is not only useless; it is above all things harmful. Alfred North Whitehead
Eeny, Meeny, Jelly Beanie, the spirits are about to speak...

Efficiency consists in getting someone to do the work you don't like to do.

Effort is only effort when it begins to hurt. Jose Ortega y Gasset (1883-1955)

Effort only fully releases its reward after a person refuses to quit. Napoleon Hill

Effort x Time = Constant (Edwards' Time/Effort Law)

Egocentric: a person who believes he is everything you know you are.

Egotism: Doing a crossword puzzle with a pen.

Egotism is nature's compensation for mediocrity. L. A. Safian

Egotism is the anesthetic that dulls the pain of stupidity. Frank Leahy

Eight days a week / I love you. / Eight days a week / is not enough to show I care. John Lennon & Paul McCartney

Eighty percent of all people consider themselves to be above average drivers. (Grelb's Reminder)

Eighty percent of married men cheat in America. The rest cheat in Europe. Jackie Mason

Either he's dead or my watch has stopped. Julius Henry (Groucho) Marx (1895-1977)

Either I will find a way, or I will make one. Philip Sidney

Either I'm dead or my watch has stopped. Last words of Groucho Marx

Either it sounds right or it doesn't sound right. (Asimov's Main Rule about writing)

Either say something better than silence or else keep silent. Menander

Either that wallpaper goes, or I do. Last words of Oscar Wilde

Either write something worth reading or do something worth writing. Franklin (1706-1790)

Either you think - or else others have to think for you and take power from you, pervert and discipline your natural tastes, civilize and sterilize you. F. Scott Fitzgerald

El Salvador is a democracy so it's not surprising that there are many voices to be heard here. Yet in my conversations with Salvadorans... I have heard a single voice. J. Danforth Quayle

Elbonics: The art of maneuvering for the center armrest in a theater or airplane.

Elbonics: Two people maneuvering for one armrest in a movie theater.

Elections are won by men and women chiefly because most people vote against somebody rather than for somebody. Franklin P. Adams (1881-1960)

Elections come and go, but politics are always with us.

Electric chairs are period furniture: they end a sentence.

Electricity can be dangerous. My nephew tried to stick a penny into a plug. Whoever said a penny doesn't go far didn't see him shoot across that floor. I told him he was grounded. Tim Allen

Electricity comes from electrons; morality comes from morons.

Electronic Mail: For when you absolutely, positively, have to lose important documents at the speed of light.

Elephants never forget, but you seldom see a kangaroo with a zipper.

Eliminate all other factors, and the one which remains must be the truth. Sir Arthur Conan Doyle

Eliminate government waste, no matter how much it costs!

Elizabeth Taylor: Always a bride, never a bridesmaid.

Eloquence is logic on fire.

Eloquence is the essential thing in a speech, not information. Mark Twain (1835-1910)

Emotion is a transformation of the world.... We try to change the world, that is, to live as if the connection between things and their potentialities were not ruled by deterministic processes, but by magic. Jean-Paul Sartre (1905-1980)

Emotion is the surest arbiter of a poetic choice, and it is the priest of all supreme unions in the mind. Max Eastman

Emotion turning back on itself, and not leading on to thought or action, is the element of madness. John Sterling

Employ thy time well if thou meanest to get leisure. Benjamin Franklin

Employment, sir, and hardships prevent melancholy. Samuel Johnson (1709-1784)

Empty vessels make the loudest sound.

Empty vessels make the most noise. Turkish Proverb

Empty vessels make the most sound. English Proverb

Empty words do not fill one's stomach. Turkish Proverb

Emulate your heroes, but don't carry it too far. Especially if they are dead.

End me no ends. Philip Massinger

Enduring habits I hate... Yes, at the very bottom of my soul I feel grateful to all my misery and bouts of sickness and everything about me that is imperfect, because this sort of thing leaves me with a hundred backdoors through which I can escape from enduring habits. Friedrich Nietzsche (1844-1900)

Energizer bunny arrested, charged with battery.

Energy and persistence conquer all things. Benjamin Franklin

Engineer: a person who knows a great deal about very little and who goes along knowing more and more about less and less, until finally he knows practically everything about nothing.

Engineers... they love to change things. Leonard McCoy

England expects that every man will do his duty. Horatio, Lord Nelson

England is a paradise for women and hell for horses; Italy a paradise for horses, hell for women, as the proverb goes. Robert Burton (1576-1640)

England is the paradise of women, the hell of horses, and the purgatory of servants. Moryson

Enjoy life; you could have been a barnacle.

Enjoy the little things in life, for one day you may look back and realize they were the big things. Antonio Smith

Enjoy the pleasures of old age as long as you are young. William Markiewicz

Enjoy the present hour, / Be thankful for the past, / And neither fear nor wish / Th' approaches of the last. Abraham Cowley (1618-1667)

Enjoy what thou has inherited from thy sires if thou wouldst really possess it. What we employ and use is never an oppressive burden; what the moment brings forth, that only can it profit by.

Johann Wolfgang von Goethe

Enjoy what you can, endure what you must. Johann Wolfgang von Goethe

Enjoy your life; be pleasant and gay, like the birds in May.

Enjoy yourself. It's later than you think. Chinese Proverb

Enlarge not thy destiny, said the oracle: endeavor not to do more than is given thee in charge. Ralph Waldo Emerson

Enlighten the people generally, and tyranny and oppressions of body and mind will vanish like evil spirits at the dawn of day. Thomas Jefferson

Enough is enough.

Enough of blood and tears. Enough! Yitzhak Rabin

Enough research will tend to support your conclusions. (Murphy's Fifteenth Law)

Enough research will tend to support your theory. (Murphy's Law of Research)

Enthusiasm is the best protection in any situation. Wholeheartedness is contagious. Give yourself, if you wish to get others. David Seabury

Enthusiasm is the leaping lightning, not to be measured by the horse-power of the understanding. Emerson (1803-1882)

Enthusiasm wanes, but dullness lasts forever.

Entropy ain't what it used to be.

Entropy isn't what it used to be.

Envy and mediocrity are an explosive mixture. Irvine H. Page

Envy is a pain of mind that successful men cause their neighbors.

Envy provides the mud that failure throws at success.

Epitaph : a postponed compliment.

Equal opportunity means everyone will have a fair chance at being incompetent. Laurence J. Peter

Ere you consult your fancy, consult your purse. Benjamin Franklin

Ernest asks Frank how long he has been working for the company. "Ever since they threatened to fire me," Frank replied.

Error is discipline through which we advance. William Ellery Channing (1780-1842)

Error is the force that welds men together; truth is communicated to men only by deeds of truth. Leo Tolstoi

Error of errors! What is familiar is what we are used to; and what we are used to is most difficult to 'know' - that is, to see as a problem; that is, to see as strange, as distant, as 'outside us'. Friedrich Nietzsche (1844-1900)

Error of opinion may be tolerated where reason is left free to admit it. Thomas Jefferson

Errors, like straws, upon the surface flow; / He who would search for pearls must dive below. John Dryden (1631-1701)

Eschew dialect, irregardless.

Eschew obfuscation.

Established technology tends to persist in spite of new technology.

Et cetera, et cetera. Yul Brynner

Eternal nothingness is fine if you happen to be dressed for it. Woody Allen

Eternal rest sounds comforting in the pulpit; well, you try it once, and see how heavy time will hang on your hands. Mark Twain

Eternal vigilance is the price of freedom. Raymonde Uy

Eternal Vigilance is the price of liberty. Thomas Jefferson

Eternity is a terrible thought... where will it all end

Eternity: The last two minutes of a football game.

Eternity! thou pleasing, dreadful thought! Joseph Addison (1672-1719)

Ethernet: something used to catch the etherbunny.

Ethical individualism has nothing to fear from a natural science that understands itself: for observation shows that the perfect form of human action has freedom as its characteristic quality. This freedom must be allowed to the human will, in so far as the will realizes purely ideal intuitions. Rudolf Steiner (1861-1925)

Ethics in advertising? Advertising is about as ethical as the American public. About as ethical as you and your neighbors. About as selfish as you and your acquaintances. It has about the same moral standards as the upper socioeconomic strata of society because it is created, approved and paid for by the upper echelons of modern U.S. society. I'll modify that to say that it is a little more ethical, a little more moral, than the upper economic strata of society. Why? Because advertising lives in a fish bowl. It is the most visible of all commercial practices. It has 200 million critics. And no business, no communications medium, no art form (or whatever you want to call advertising), no other enterprise has so many watchdogs. Morris Hite

Etiquette: The little things you do that you don't want to do.

Eunuchs: The operating system for real men.

Euphemasia: A new name for Political Correctness.

Euripides was wont to say, "Silence is an answer to a wise man." Plutarch (c.46-c.120 A. D.)

Even a bagpipe won't speak till his belly is full. Quiller-Couch

Even a cabbage may look at a king.

Even a clock that does not work is right twice a day. Polish Proverb

Even a coffin is made to measure. Russian Proverb

Even a fool is thought wise if he keeps silent, and discerning if he holds his tongue.

Even a fool knows that we can not reach out and touch the stars, but that does not stop a wise man from trying.

Even a fool who keeps silent is considered wise; when he closes his lips, he is deemed intelligent. Old Testament

Even a genius can have an off-day. Wile E. Coyote

Even a god cannot change the past. Agathon

Even a hare will insult a dead lion. Latin Proverb

Even a hawk is an eagle among crows.

Even a mistake may turn out to be the one thing necessary to a worthwhile achievement. Henry Ford

Even a mosquito doesn't get a slap on the back until it starts to work.

Even a nod from a person who is esteemed is of more force than a thousand arguments or studied sentences from others. Plutarch (c.46-c.120 A. D.)

Even a short pencil is more reliable than the longest memory.

Even a sick man shuns death. Spanish Proverb

Even a stopped clock is right twice a day.

Even a straight line is art in someone's eyes.

Even a tiny mosquito gets a slap on the back when he does a good job.

Even after a bad harvest there must be sowing. Latin Proverb

Even cowards can endure hardship; only the brave can endure suspense. Mignon McLaughlin

Even fairly good students, when they have obtained the solution of the problem and written down neatly the argument, shut their books and look for something else. Doing so, they miss an important and instructive phase of the work... A good teacher should understand and impress on his students the view that no problem whatever is completely exhausted. George Pólya

Even God cannot change the past. Agathon

Even God lends a hand to honest boldness.

Even good opinions are worth very little unless we hold them in the broad, intelligent, and spacious way. John Morley

Even if an ass goes travelling he'll not come home a horse. English Proverb

Even if, as is generally the case, everything that the ad says about the product is scrupulously honest, or at any rate scrupulously avoids outright dishonesty, the implication of the direct address of most commercials - that the announcer speaks with the viewer's welfare at heart - is fraudulent. Michael Schudson

Even if there arise a mighty boxer among a people, or one great in the pentathlon or at wrestling, or one excelling in swiftness of foot - and that stands in honor before all tasks of people at the games - the city would be none the better governed for that. It is but little joy a city gets of it if a person conquer at the games by Pisa's banks; it is not this that makes fat the store-houses of a city. Xenophanes (570-475 BCE)

Even if there is only one possible unified theory, it is just a set of rules and equations. What is it that breathes fire into the equations and makes a universe for them to describe? The usual approach of science of constructing a mathematical model cannot answer the questions of why there should be a universe for the model to describe. Why does the universe go to all the bother of existing? Stephen Hawking

Even if we fail, we'll learn. Hachiro Shimanuki

Even if you are on the right track, you'll get run over if you just sit there! Will Rogers

Even if you beat a fool until he's half dead, you still can't beat his foolishness out of him. Solomon

Even if you win the rat race, you're still a rat.

Even if you're on the right track, you'll get run over if you just sit there. Arthur Godfrey & Will Rogers

Even if your love doesn't fill up my days any longer, my soul is still a prisoner of the abyss of your eyes.

Even in literature and art, no man who bothers about originality will ever be original: whereas if you simply try to tell the truth (without caring two pence how often it has been told before) you will, nine times out of ten, become original without ever having noticed it. C.S. Lewis

Even in the darkest phase be it thick or thin, always someone marches brave here beneath my skin. k.d.lang

Even Mason and Dixon had to draw the line somewhere.

Even moderation ought not to be practiced to excess.

Even on the most exalted throne in the world we are only sitting on our own bottom. Michel de Montaigne

Even on the road to hell, flowers can make you smile. Deng Ming-Dao

Even Plato didn't care for the flickering images of reality projected on the cave walls. Jason Vigdior

Even popularity can be overdone. In Rome, along at first, you are full of regrets that Michelangelo died; but by and by, you only regret that you didn't see him do it. Mark Twain

Even red apples are wormy. German Proverb

Even the best things are not equal to their fame. Henry David Thoreau

Even the boldest zebra fears the hungry lion.

Even the clearest and most perfect circumstantial evidence is likely to be at fault, after all, and therefore ought to be received with great caution. Take the case of any pencil, sharpened by any woman; if you have witnesses, you will find she did it with a knife; but if you take simply the aspect of the pencil, you will say she did it with her teeth. Mark Twain

Even the dullest candle burns brighter in the dark.

Even the feeling of our own ego is subject to disturbances and the boundaries of the ego are not constant. Sigmund Freud (1856-1939)

Even the finest of cookbooks is no substitute for the poorest of dinners. Aldous Huxley

Even the lion has to defend himself against flies.

Even the most faithful believer can serve a false god.

Even the most scientific investigator in science, the most thoroughgoing Positivist, cannot dispense with fiction; he must at least make use of categories, and they are already fictions, analogical fictions, or labels, which give us the same pleasure as children receive when they are told the "name" of a thing. Havelock Ellis

Even the most wrinkled prune has a pit.

Even the mother doesn't give milk unless (the child) cries. Hindustani Proverb

Even the rich, who could after all afford to die elaborately, are beginning to become negligent and indifferent; the wish to have a death of one's own is becoming rarer and rarer. A little while yet, and it will be as rare as a life of one's own. God, it's all there. One comes along, one finds a life, ready-made, one only has to put it on. Rainer Maria Rilke (1875-1926)

Even the smallest candle burns brighter in the dark.

Even the wisest men make fools of themselves about women - and even the most foolish women are wise about men.

Even the woodpecker owes his success to the fact that he uses his head and keeps pecking away until he finishes the job he starts. Coleman Cox

Even though this is late in an election year, there is no way we can go forward except together and no way anybody can win except by serving the people's urgent needs. We cannot stand still or slip backwards. We must go forward now together. Gerald R. Ford

Even though you know a thousand things, ask the man who knows one. Turkish Proverb

Even though your love is as far as the farthest star in the universe, I still reach for that star, because I want it more than anything in the universe.

Even water tastes bad when taken on doctor's orders. (Murphy's Flu Philosophy)

Even when freshly washed and relieved of all obvious confections, children tend to be sticky. Fran Lebowitz

Even when I was little, I was big. William "Refridgerator" Perry

Even when walking in the company of two other men, I am bound to be able to learn from them. The good points of one I copy; the bad points of the other I correct in myself. Confucius (551-479 BC)

Even worse than raining cats and dogs is hailing taxis.

Events are less important than our response to them.

Events in the past may be roughly divided into those which probably never happened and those which do not matter. W. R. Inge

Eventually, all things merge into one, and a river runs through it. The river was cut by the world's great flood and runs over rocks from the basement of time. On some of the rocks are timeless raindrops. Under the rocks are the words, and some of the words are theirs. I am haunted by waters. Norman Maclean

Eventually, everything becomes food.

Ever has it been that love knows not its own depth until the hour of separation. Kahlil Gibran

Ever hear of a slow food restaurant? ...a low speed chase? ...a wide escape?

Ever just seem to not be able to get around to procrastinating?

Ever notice how irons have a setting for a permanent press?

Ever notice that even the busiest people are never too busy to tell you just how busy they are?

Ever stop to think, and forget to start again? (Bumper Sticker)

Ever stop to think and then forget to start again?

Ever think about the fact that thorn bushes have roses?

Ever try writing your zip code in Roman numerals?

Ever wish you had a copy of tomorrow's newspaper?

Ever wonder if illiterate people get the full effect of alphabet soup? John Mendoza

Ever wonder why God chose you to be the parent of your children? Archie Wortham

Every 4 seconds a woman has a baby. Our problem is to find this woman and stop her.

Every absurdity has a champion to defend it, for error is always talkative. Oliver Goldsmith

Every accomplishment starts with the decision to try.

Every act of creation is first of all an act of destruction. Pablo Picasso

Every action has an equal and opposite satisfaction. (Newton's Fourth Law)

Every action is either strong or weak, and when every action is strong we are successful. Wallace D. Wattles

Every action is measured by the depth of the sentiment from which it proceeds. Ralph Waldo Emerson (1803-1882)

Every action of our lives touches on some chord that will vibrate in eternity. Edwin Hubbel Chapin

Every activity takes more time than you have. (Murphy's Fourth Law)

Every actual state is corrupt. Good men must not obey laws too well. Emerson (1803-1882)

Every advance in civilization has been denounced as unnatural while it was recent. Bertrand Russell

Every adversity, every failure and every heartache carries with it the Seed of an equivalent or a greater Benefit. Napolean Hill

Every advertisement should be thought of as a contribution to the complex symbol which is the brand image. David Ogilvy

Every age has its pleasures, its style of wit, and its own ways. Nicholas Boileau-Despreaux (1636-1711)

Every American ought to have the right to be treated as he would wish to be treated, as one would wish his children to be treated. John F. Kennedy

Every animal has ideas, since it has senses; it even combines those ideas in a certain degree; and it is only in degree that man differs, in this respect, from the brute. Jean Jacques Rousseau (1712-1778)

Every animal knows far more than you do. Nez Perce

Every animal knows more than you do. Native American Proverb (Nez Perce)

Every artist dips his brush in his own soul, and paints his own nature into his pictures. Henry Ward Beecher

Every artist was first an amateur. Ralph Waldo Emerson

Every ass thinks himself worthy to stand with the king's horses.

Every asset that your company has must be fully maximized if you expect to succeed and compete in the future. Jay Abraham

Every athlete has doubts. Elite runners in particular are insecure people. You need someone to affirm that what you are doing is right. Lynn Jennings

Every baby resembles the relative with the most money. James S. Hastings

Every bee's honey is sweet. George Herbert & French Proverb

Every beetle is a gazelle in the eyes of its mother. Moorish Proverb

Every beginning is difficult. Giovanni Torriano

Every beginning is hard.

Every book has an intrinsic impossibility, which its writer discovers as soon as his first excitement dwindles. Anne Dillard

Every burned book enlightens the world. Ralph Waldo Emerson

Every calling is great when greatly pursued.

Every carpenter makes some chips, and he is the best workman who makes fewest. W. Pope

Every cask smells of the wine it contained. Spanish Proverb

Every charitable act is a stepping stone towards heaven. Henry Ward Beecher

Every child is an artist. The problem is how to remain an artist once he grows up. Pablo Picasso

Every citizen should be a soldier. This was the case with the Greeks and Romans, and must be that of every free state. Thomas Jefferson

Every clarification breeds new questions. (Murphy's Twelfth Law)
Every closed eye is not sleeping; and every open eye is not seeing.
Every cloud engenders not a storm.
Every cloud has a silver lining. Gilbert & English Proverb
Every cloud has a silver lining, but it is sometimes difficult to get it to the mint. Don Marquis
Every cloud has a silver lining; you should have sold it, and bought titanium.
Every Communist must grasp the truth: "Political power grows out of the barrel of a gun." Mao Tse-Tung
Every complex problem has a solution that is simple, neat, and wrong. H. L. Mencken
Every compulsion is put upon writers to become safe, polite, obedient, and sterile. Sinclair Lewis
Every country has the government it deserves. Joseph de Maistre
Every creator painfully experiences the chasm between his inner vision and its ultimate expression.
Isaac Singer (1904-1991)
Every crisis offers you extra desired power. William Moulton Marston
Every crowd has a silver lining. P. T. Barnum
Every day cannot be a feast of lanterns. Chinese Proverb
Every day is just blue Monday since you've been away. Doc Pomus & Mort Shuman
Every day learns from the one that went before, but no day teaches the one that follows. Russian Proverb
Every day, the hummingbird eats its own weight in food. You may wonder how it weighs the food.
It doesn't. It just eats another hummingbird.
Every decent man is ashamed of the government he lives under. H. L. Mencken
Every difficulty slurred over will be a ghost to disturb your repose later on. Chopin
Every disease will have its course. Vincent Stuckey Lean (1820-1899)
Every dog has fleas.
Every dog has his day, and a cat has two Sundays. English Proverb
Every dog is allowed his first bite.
Every dog must have its day. Jonathan Swift
Every evil in the bud is easily crushed: as it grows older, it becomes stronger. Cicero (B.C. 106-43)
Every exit is an entry somewhere else. Tom Stoppard
Every experience in life, everything with which we have come in contact in life, is a chisel which has been cutting away at our life statue, molding, modifying, shaping it. We are part of all we have met. Everything we have seen, heard, felt, or thought has had its hand in molding us, shaping us. Orison Scott Marden
Every family tree has some sap.
Every form of addiction is bad, no matter whether the narcotic be alcohol or morphine or idealism.
Carl Gustav Jung
Every formula which expresses a law of nature is a hymn of praise to God. Maria Mitchell (1818-1889)
Every four minutes a woman has a baby: Find this woman and stop her!
Every game ever invented by mankind, is a way of making things hard for the fun of it! John Ciardi (1916-1986)
Every garden may have some weeds. English Proverb
Every generation thinks it has the answers, and every generation is humbled by nature. Phillip Lubin
Every genius is a child, every child is a genius.
Every girl should use what mother nature gives her before father time takes it away.
Every good citizen makes his country's honor his own, and cherishes it not only as precious but as sacred. He is willing to risk his life in its defense and is conscious that he gains protection while he gives it. Andrew Jackson
Every government has as much of a duty to avoid war as a ship's captain has to avoid a shipwreck.
Guy de Maupassant (1850-1893)

Every great advance in natural knowledge has involved the absolute rejection of authority. Thomas Huxley

Every great advance in science has issued from a new audacity of the imagination. John Dewey

Every great man is always being helped by everybody; for his gift is to get good out of all things and all persons. John Ruskin

Every great man nowadays has his disciples, and it is always Judas who writes the biography. Oscar Wilde

Every guest hates the others, and the host hates them all. Albanian Proverb

Every guilty person is his own hangman. Seneca

Every gun that is made, every warship launched, every rocket fired, signifies in the final sense a theft from those who hunger and are not fed, those who are cold and are not clothed. Dwight D. Eisenhower (1890-1969)

Every hard-boiled egg is yellow inside.

Every hero becomes at last a bore. Ralph Waldo Emerson

Every honest miller has a golden thumb.

Every horse thinks his own pack the heaviest.

Every human being has a work to carry on within, duties to perform abroad, influence to exert, which are peculiarly his, and which no conscience but his own can teach. William Ellery Channing

Every human mind is a great slumbering power until awakened by a keen desire and by definite resolution to do. Edgar F. Roberts

Every improvement in communication makes the bore more terrible. Frank Moore Colby

Every institution tends to perish through an excess of its own policy.

Every instructor assumes that you have nothing else to do except study for that instructor's course. (Fourth Law of Applied Terror) The night before the English History mid-term, your biology instructor will assign 200 pages on planaria. (Corollary to the Fourth Law of Applied Terror)

Every investigation which is guided by principles of Nature fixes its ultimate aim entirely on gratifying the stomach. Athenæus (ca. 200 A. D.)

Every jackass going the road thinks he has ideas. James Joyce

Every job is a self-portrait of the person who did it, so autograph your work with quality. Robert Elliott

Every journalist has a novel in him, which is an excellent place for it.

Every king springs from a race of slaves, and every slave had kings among his ancestors. Plato

Every kind of music is good, except the boring kind. Gioacchino Rossini (1792-1868)

Every lazybones deserves a kick in his can'ts.

Every life is a drop in the ocean of life. Before I evaporate, I hope that I can water a rose. Dr. Bob Morgan

Every life is a profession of faith, and exercises an inevitable and silent influence. Amiel

Every little picofarad has a nanohenry all its own.

Every little thing counts in a crisis. Jawaharlal Nehru

Every living thing is a sort of imperialist, seeking to transform as much as possible of its environment into itself... When we compare the (present) human population of the globe with... that of former times, we see that "chemical imperialism" has been... the main end to which human intelligence has been devoted. Bertrand Russell

Every luxury must be paid for, and everything is a luxury, starting with being in the world. Cesare Pavese

Every major horror of history was committed in the name of an altruistic motive. Ayn Rand (1905-1982)

Every man a little beyond himself is a fool.

Every man alone is sincere; at the entrance of a second person hypocrisy begins. Ralph Waldo Emerson

Every man builds his world in his own image. He has the power to choose, but no power to escape the necessity of choice. Ayn Rand (1905-1982)

Every man dies; not every man really lives. Braveheart

Every man, either to his terror or consolation, has some sense of religion. James Harrington

Every man, for his own part, calleth that which pleaseth, and is delightful to himself, GOOD; and that EVIL which displeaseth him: insomuch that while every man differeth from other in constitution, they differ also one from another concerning the common distinction of good and evil. Thomas Hobbes (1588-1679)

Every man has a mob self and an individual self, in varying proportions. D. H. Lawrence

Every man has a property in his own person. This nobody has a right to, but himself. John Locke

Every man has a rainy corner of his life whence comes foul weather which follows him. Jean Paul Richter

Every man has a right to be conceited until he is successful. Benjamin Disraeli

Every man has a right to his opinion, but no man has a right to be wrong in his facts. Bernard M. Baruch

Every man has a right to life. That means that he also has a right to make a comfortable living. Franklin Delano Roosevelt

Every man has a scheme that absolutely won't work.

Every man has his dignity. I'm willing to forget mine, but at my own discretion and not when someone else tells me to. Denis Diderot (1713-1784)

Every man has his own destiny; the only imperative is to follow it, to accept it, no matter where it leads him. Henry Miller

Every man has his price. Every price has its man.

Every man has his secret sorrows which the world knows not; and often times we call a man cold when he is only sad. Henry Wadsworth Longfellow

Every man has one thing he can do better than anyone else - and usually it's reading his own handwriting. G. Norman Collie

Every man has three characters; that which he exhibits, that which he has, and that which he thinks he has. Alphonse Karr

Every man has two countries, his own and France. Henri de Bornier

Every man is a fool sometimes, and none at all times. George Herbert

Every man is a king in his own house.

Every man is a volume if you know how to read him. William Ellery Channing

Every man is as God made him, ay, and often worse. Miguel de Cervantes (1547-1616)

Every man is as Heaven made him, and sometimes a great deal worse. Miguel de Cervantes (1547-1616)

Every man is best known to himself. Thomas Draxe

Every man is born as many men and dies as a single one. Martin Heidegger

Every man is dishonest who lives upon the labor of others, no matter if he occupies a throne. Robert Green Ingersoll

Every man is guilty of all the good he didn't do. Voltaire

Every man is his own ancestor, and every man his own heir. He devises his own future, and he inherits his own past. H. F. Hedge (1805-1890)

Every man is mad on some point.

Every man is nearest himself.

Every man is tasked to make his life even in its details, worthy of the contemplation of his most elevated and critical hour. Ralph Waldo Emerson

Every man is the architect of his own fortune. Appius Claudius (4th century BC) & Sallust

Every man is the architect of his own life. He builds it just the way he wants it. However, after he has built what he wants, he sometimes decides that he doesn't like what he has built and looks for someone or something to blame instead of changing himself. Sidney Madwed

Every man is the son of his own works.

Every man is working out his destiny in his own way and nobody can be of help. Henry Miller

Every man knows his own business best.

Every man likes his own thing best.

Every man must skin his own skunk.

Every man must tread the way of death. William Shakespeare

Every man ought to be inquisitive through every hour of his great adventure down to the day when he shall no longer cast a shadow in the sun. For if he dies without a question in his heart, what excuse is there for his continuance. Frank Moore Colby (1865-1925)

Every man shall bear his own burden. New Testament

Every man should have a fair-sized cemetery in which to bury the faults of his friends. Henry Ward Beecher

Every man should have a college education in order to show him how little the thing is really worth. Elbert Hubbard

Every man takes the limits of his own field of vision for the limits of the world. Arthur Schopenhauer

Every man usually has something he can do better than anyone else. Usually it is reading his own hardwriting.

Every man was not born with a silver spoon in his mouth. Miguel de Cervantes (1547-1616)

Every man who is high up loves to think that he has done it all himself; and the wife smiles, and lets it go at that. James Matthew Barrie

Every man who observes vigilantly and resolves steadfastly grows unconsciously into genius. Edward G. Bulwer-Lytton

Every man who takes office in Washington either grows or swells. Woodrow Wilson

Every man's ability may be strengthened or increased by culture. John Abbott

Every man's life ends the same way. It is only the details of how he lived and how he died that distinguish one man from another. Ernest Hemingway

Every man's life is a fairy tale, written by God's fingers. Hans Christian Andersen (1802-1875)

Every man's life, liberty, and property are in danger when the Legislature is in session. Daniel Webster

Every man's life lies within the present; for the past is spent and done with, and the future is uncertain. Marcus Aurelius

Every man's memory is his private literature. Aldous Huxley

Every man's task is his life-preserver. Emerson (1803-1882)

Every man's work is a portrait of himself.

Every man's work, whether it be literature or music or pictures or architecture or anything else, is always a portrait of himself. Samuel Butler (1835-1902)

Every mathematical discipline goes through three periods of development: the naive, the formal, and the critical. David Hilbert

Every medal has its reverse.

Every mile in winter is two. English Proverb

Every mile is two in winter. George Herbert

Every minority group in order to survive works harder than usual. Ephraim Katchalski

Every minute you are angry wastes 60 happy seconds.

Every morning is the dawn of a new error.

Every new opinion, at its starting, is precisely in a minority of one. Thomas Carlyle

Every noble acquisition is attended with its risks; he who fears to encounter the one must not expect to obtain the other. Metastasio

Every noble work is at first impossible. Thomas Carlyle

Every normal man must be tempted, at times, to spit on his hands, hoist the black flag, and begin slitting throats. H. L. Mencken

Every now and then we discover in the seething mass of humanity round us a person who does not seem to need anybody else, and the contrast with ourselves is stinging. Ernest Dimnet

Every numerous assembly is a mob; everything there depends on instantaneous turns. Cardinal de Retz

Every oak has been an acorn.

Every obnoxious act is a cry for help. Zig Ziglar (1926-)

Every one is the son of his own works. Cervantes (1547-1616)

Every one that asketh receiveth; and he that seeketh findeth. Jesus Christ

Every one's faults are written in their foreheads.

Every part contains the whole, for only through the whole is each part what it is, but through the whole it is necessarily what it is. Johann Gottlieb Fichte (1762-1814)

Every parting gives a foretaste of death;... Schopenhauer

Every pawn move loosens the position. Siegbert Tarrasch

Every peasant is proud of the pond in his village because from it he measures the sea. Russian Proverb

Every person, all the events of your life are there because you have drawn them there. What you choose to do with them is up to you. Richard Bach

Every person in the world is either a missionary or a mission field.

Every person that you meet knows something you don't; learn from them.

Every pleasure or pain has a sort of rivet with which it fastens the soul to the body and pins it down and makes it corporeal, accepting as true whatever the body certifies. Socrates (470?-399 B.C.)

Every portrait that is painted with feeling is a portrait of the artist, not of the sitter. Oscar Wilde

Every problem has in it the seeds of its own solution. If you don't have any problems, you don't get any seeds. Norman Vincent Peale

Every production must resemble its author. Miguel de Cervantes

Every purchase has its price.

Every quarrel begins in nothing and ends in a struggle for supremacy. Elbert Hubbard

Every revolution evaporates and leaves behind only the slime of a new bureaucracy. Franz Kafka (1883-1924)

Every revolution was first a thought in one man's mind. Ralph Waldo Emerson (1803-1882)

Every revolutionary idea - in science, politics, art, or whatever - evokes three stages of reaction in a hearer: It is completely impossible - don't waste my time. It is possible, but it is not worth doing. I said it was a good idea all along.

Every rich may not love his city, but these who do, must be rich. B. J. Gupta

Every road has two directions. Russian Proverb

Every sale has five basic obstacles: no need, no money, no hurry, no desire, no trust. Zig Ziglar

Every season brings its own joy. Spanish Proverb

Every Silver Lining has a cloud around it.

Every sin is the result of a collaboration. Stephen Crane

Every so often, I like to go to the window, look up, and smile for a satellite picture. Steven Wright

Every so often, we pass laws repealing human nature. Howard Lindsay

Every society honors its live conformists and its dead troublemakers. Mignon McLaughlin

Every society professes the existence of inalienable human rights; most, however, are somewhat vague as to just what they are.

Every solution breeds new problems. (Murphy's Seventh Law)

Every spirit makes its house, but as afterwards the house confines the spirit, you had better build well. Elbert Hubbard

Every stink that fights the ventilator thinks it is Don Quixote. Stanislaw J. Lec

Every successful man I have heard of has done the best he could with conditions as he found them, and not waited until the next year for better. Edgar Watson Howe

Every sunrise is a message from God, and every sunset, God's signature. William Ward

Every survival kit should include a sense of humor.

Every sweet has its sour; every evil its good. Ralph Waldo Emerson

Every thought which genius and piety throw into the world alters the world. Ralph Waldo Emerson

Every time a child says 'I don't believe in fairies' there is a little fairy somewhere that falls down dead. James Matthew Barrie (1860-1937)

Every time Europe looks across the Atlantic to see the American Eagle, it observes only the rear end of an ostrich. H. G. Wells

Every time history repeats itself the price goes up.

Every time I learn something new, it pushes out something old! Homer Simpson

Every time I lose weight, it finds me again.

Every time I see an adult on a bicycle, I no longer despair for the future of the human race. H.G. Wells (1866-1946)

Every time I think about exercise, I lie down til the thought goes away.

Every time I think I know where it's at, they move it.

Every time it rains, it rains / Pennies from heaven. / Don't you know each cloud contains / Pennies from heaven? / You'll find your fortune falling / All over town / Be sure that your umbrella / Is upside down. Johnny Burke (1908-1964) & Arthur Johnston

Every time we suppress an attraction because of an insecurity we strengthen our erotic 'blocks' and therefore our deficits. Max Lüscher

Every time you hear a bell ring, it means that some angel just got his wings. Henry Travers

Every tomorrow has two handles. We can take hold of it with the handle of anxiety or the handle of faith. Henry Ward Beecher

Every truth starts life as a heresy and ends life as an orthodoxy. Thomas Huxley

Every tub must stand on its own bottom.

Every tyrant who has lived has believed in freedom - for himself. Elbert Hubbard

Every unpunished murder takes away something from the security of every man's life. Daniel Webster

Every why hath a wherefore. William Shakespeare (1564-1616)

Every woman has something of a witch about her. Spanish Proverb

Every worthwhile accomplishment, big or little, has its stages of drudgery and triumph; a beginning, a struggle and a victory.

Every writer is a narcissist. This does not mean that he is vain; it only means that he is hopelessly self-absorbed. Leo Rosten

Every year I live I am more convinced that the waste of life lies in the love we have not given, the powers we have not used, the selfish prudence that will risk nothing, and which shirking pain, misses happiness as well. No one ever yet was the poorer in the long run for having once in a lifetime "let out all the length of all the reins." Mary Cholomondeley

Every young man would do well to remember that all successful business stands on the foundation of morality. Henry Ward Beecher (1813-1887)

Everybody and their mother knows you don't train hard on Friday, the day before a race. But a lot of runners will overtrain on Thursday if left on their own. Thursday is the most dangerous day of the week. Marty Stern

Everybody can be great because anybody can serve. You don't have to have a college degree to serve. You don't have to make your subject and verb agree to serve. You only need a heart full of grace. A soul generated by love. Martin Luther King Jr. (1929-1968)

Everybody gets so much information all day long that they lose their common sense. Gertrude Stein

Everybody has a photographic memory... Some don't have film.

Everybody has his own theater, in which he is manager, actor, prompter, playwright, sceneshifter, boxkeeper, doorkeeper, all in one, and audience into the bargain. Julius C. Hare & Augustus W. Hare

Everybody is always tugging at you. They'd all like a sort of chunk out of you. I don't think they realize it, but it's like 'grrr do this, grr do that...' But you do want to stay intact - intact and on two feet. Marilyn Monroe

Everybody is ignorant, only on different subjects. Will Rogers

Everybody is somebody else's weirdo. (Dykstra's Law)

Everybody lies, but it doesn't matter because nobody listens. Nick Diamos

Everybody lies, but it doesn't matter since nobody listens. (Liebermann's Law)

Everybody ought to have a friend.

Everybody repeat after me... "We are all individuals."

Everybody says it, and what everybody says must be true. James Fenimore Cooper

Everybody sets out to do something, and everybody does something, but no one does what he sets out to do. George Moore

Everybody should believe in something - I believe I'll have another drink.

Everybody talks about the weather, but nobody does anything about it. Charles Dudley Warner

Everybody thinks of changing humanity but nobody thinks of changing himself. Leo Tolstoi

Everybody wants to go to heaven, but nobody wants to die.

Everybody wants to peel their own banana. (Young's Principle of Individuality)

Everybody wants to see justice done, to somebody else. Bruce Cockburn

Everybody's business is nobody's business.

Everybody's crazy except you and me, and I've been wondering about you lately.

Everybody's death simplifies life for someone.

Everyday happiness means getting up in the morning, and you can't wait to finish your breakfast. You can't wait to do your exercises. You can't wait to put on your clothes. You can't wait to get out -- and you can't wait to come home, because the soup is hot. George Burns (1896-1996)

Everyday is the beginning of a lifetime of togetherness.

Everyone admits that love is wonderful and necessary, yet no one agrees on just what it is. Diane Ackerman

Everyone believes very easily whatever they fear or desire. Jean de La Fontaine

Everyone complains of his memory, no one of his judgment.

Everyone complains of the badness of his memory, but nobody of his judgment. François de La Rochefoucauld

Everyone else my age is an adult, whereas I am merely in disguise. Atwood

Everyone has a fair turn to be as great as he pleases. Jeremy Collier

Everyone has a photographic memory. Some don't have film.

Everyone has a right to a university degree in America, even if it's in Hamburger Technology. Clive James

Everyone has a scheme for getting rich that will not work.

Everyone has a scheme that will not work. (Howe's Law)

Everyone has a talent. What is rare is the courage to follow the talent to the dark place where it leads. Erica Jong

Everyone has ancestors and it is only a question of going back far enough to find a good one. Howard Kenneth Nixon

Everyone has his day, and some days last longer than others. Winston Churchill (1874-1965)

Everyone has inside of him a piece of good news. The good news is that you don't know how great you can be! How much you can love! What you can accomplish! And what your potential is! Anne Frank

Everyone has something ancestral, even if it is nothing more than a disease. Ed Howe

Everyone has talent at twenty-five. The difficulty is to have it at fifty. Joshua Reynolds (1723-1792)

Everyone has the desire to win, but only champions have the desire to prepare.

Everyone hates me because I'm paranoid.

Everyone hears what you say. Friends listen to what you say. Best friends listen to what you don't say.

Everyone in favor of birth control has already been born. Laurence Peter

Everyone is a bore to someone. That is unimportant. The thing to avoid is being a bore to oneself. Gerald Brenan

Everyone is a genius. It is just that some people are too stupid to realize it.

Everyone is a moon, and has a dark side which he never shows to anybody. Mark Twain

Everyone is a prisoner of his own experiences. No one can eliminate prejudices just recognize them. Edward R. Murrow (1908-1965)

Everyone is born a king, and most people die in exile.

Everyone is entitled to my opinion.

Everyone is gifted in some way. Some merely open the package sooner.

Everyone knows that a man can always marry even if he reaches 102, is penniless, and has all his faculties gone. There is always some woman willing to take a chance on him. Amy Vanderbilt

Everyone knows the four seasons are pepper, salt, vinegar, and oil.

Everyone knows the moon is really made of silver, it's quarters and halves.

Everyone likes flattery, and when it comes to royalty, you should lay it on with a trowel. Benjamin Disraeli

Everyone must row with the oars he has. English Proverb

Everyone needs a warm personal enemy or two to keep him free from rust in the movable parts of his mind. Gene Fowler

Everyone needs recognition for his accomplishments, but few people make the need known quite as clearly as the little boy who said to his father: "Let's play darts. I'll throw and you say 'Wonderful!'"

Everyone ought to have a maid.

Everyone sees who you appear to be, but only a select few know who you really are.

Everyone should be careful to use a singular pronoun with a singular nouns in their writing. (William Safire's 16th Rule for Writers)

Everyone should be married. If it is successful, you will become happy. If not, you will become a philosopher. Socrates (470?-399 BC)

Everyone should carefully observe which way his heart draws him, and then choose that way with all his strength. Hasidic saying

Everyone should keep a mental wastepaper basket, and the older he grows, the more things will he promptly consign to it. Samuel Butler

Everyone stopping by with unsought advice will see your mistake.

Everyone takes the limits of his own vision for the limits of the world. Arthur Schopenhauer

Everyone thinks his own burden heavy. French Proverb

Everyone thinks of changing the world, but no one thinks of changing himself. Leo Tolstoy

Everyone to his taste, said the farmer and kissed the cow.

Everyone wants to live on top of the mountain, but all the happiness and growth occurs while climbing it. Richard Hurley

Everyone who ever walked barefoot into his child's room late at night hates Legos. Tony Kornheiser

Everyone who has ever taken a shower has had an idea. It's the person who gets out of the shower, dries off, and does something about it that makes a difference. Nolan Bushnell

Everyone wishes to have truth on his side, but not everyone wishes to be on the side of truth. Richard Whately

Everything a human being wants can be divided into four components: love, adventure, power and fame. Johann Wolfgang von Goethe (1749-1832)

Everything above and below this line is true, but this line may be false.

Everything begins with an idea. Earl Nightingale

Everything bows to success, even grammar. Victor Hugo

Everything can be taken from a man but one thing: The last of his freedoms - to choose one's attitude in any given set of circumstances, to choose one's own way. Viktor E. Frankl

Everything comes if a man will only wait. Benjamin Disraeli

Everything comes to he who waits - providing he has either infinite patience or infinite wealth.

Everything comes to him who hustles while he waits. Thomas Alva Edison (1847-1931) & Henry Ford (1863-1947)

Everything comes to him who waits.

Everything comes to him who waits, except a loaned book. Kin Hubbard

Everything coming your way? You're in the wrong lane!

Everything costs more and takes longer. (Pournelle's Law of Costs and Schedules)

Everything deep is also simple and can be reproduced simply as long as its reference to the whole truth is maintained. But what matters is not what is witty but what is true. Albert Schweitzer

Everything depends. (Langsam's First Law)

Everything east of the San Andreas Fault will eventually plunge into the Atlantic Ocean.

Everything else you grow out of, but you never recover from childhood. Beryl Bainbridge

Everything falls apart sooner or later.

Everything flows and nothing abides; everything gives way and nothing stays fixed. Heraclitus

Everything flows; nothing remains. Herakleitos

Everything goes by the board: honor, pride, decency... to get the book written. If a writer has to rob his mother, he will not hesitate. William Faulkner (1897-1962)

Everything goes on sale... right after you buy it.

Everything goes wrong all at once. (Quantization Revision of Murphy's Law)

Everything goes wrong at once.

Everything going good? You must have overlooked something.

Everything great in the world comes from neurotics. They alone have founded our religions and composed our masterpieces. James Thurber

Everything happens for a reason... God needs a laugh.

Everything has an end.

Everything has beauty, but not everyone sees it. Confucius

Everything has been figured out except how to live. Jean-Paul Sartre (1905-1980)

Everything has been said, and we are more than seven thousand years of human thought too late. Jean de LaBruyere (1645-1696)

Everything has its beauty but not everyone sees it. Confucius

Everything has its wonders, even darkness and silence, and I learn, whatever state I may be in, therein to be content. Helen Keller

Everything has two handles, one by which it may be borne; another by which it cannot. Epictetus (Circa 60 A. D.)

Everything here, but the soul of man, is a passing shadow. The only enduring substance is within. Channing (1780-1842)

Everything hurts... and what doesn't don't work.

Everything I do, I do on the principle of Russian borscht. You can throw everything into it—beets, carrots, cabbage, onions, everything you want. What's important is the result, the taste of the borsch. Yevgeny Yevtushenko

Everything important has been said before by somebody who did not discover it. Alfred North Whitehead

Everything in excess is opposed to nature. Hippocrates (B.C. 460-370)

Everything in life depends on how that life accepts its limits. James Baldwin

Everything in life is temporary. So if things are going good, enjoy it because it won't last forever. And if things are going bad, don't worry because it won't last forever either.

Everything in life that we really accept undergoes a change. Katherine Mansfield

Everything in moderation. Giovanni Simone

Everything in moderation, including moderation.

Everything in Nature contains all the powers of Nature. Everything is made of one hidden stuff. Ralph Waldo Emerson (1803-1882)

Everything in the world may be endured except continual prosperity. Johann Wolfgang von Goethe

Everything is actually everything else, just recycled.

Everything is always done for the wrong reasons. O'Brian

Everything is funny as long as it is happening to somebody else. Will Rogers

Everything is in a state of flux, including the status quo. Robert Byrne

Everything is in a state of utter dishevelment. (Wallace's Observation)

Everything is not gold that one sees shining. Denise Cordelier

Everything is small stuff. Finn Taylor (Rule number 2 in Life)

Everything is sometimes. (Langsam's Third Law)

Everything is sweetened by risk. Alexander Smith

Everything is the product of one universal creative effort. There is nothing dead in Nature. Everything is organic and living, and therefore the whole world appears to be a living organism. Paracelsus (1493-1541)

Everything is worth precisely as much as a belch, the difference being that a belch is more satisfying. Ingmar Bergman

Everything I've ever done was out of fear of being mediocre. Chet Atkins

Everything must have a beginning.

Everything not forbidden by the laws of Nature is mandatory. Trouble is, nearly everything is forbidden.

Everything of importance has been said before by somebody who did not discover it. Alfred Whitehead

Everything popular is wrong. Oscar Wilde

Everything put together falls apart, sooner or later. (Simon's Law)

Everything runs to excess; every good quality is noxious if unmixed. Ralph Waldo Emerson

Everything should be made as simple as possible, but not simpler. Albert Einstein (1879-1955)

Everything should be transparent to the user.

Everything starts as somebody's daydream. Larry Niven

Everything takes longer than you think it will. (Murphy's Second Law)

Everything tends toward chaos. John Quill Taylor

Everything that can be counted doesn't necessarily count; everything that counts can't necessarily be counted. Albert Einstein

Everything that can be invented has been invented. Charles H. Duell, Commissioner, U.S. patent office, 1899

Everything that can be said, can be said clearly. Ludwig Wittgenstein

Everything that goes up must come down.

Everything that irritates us about others can lead us to an understanding of ourselves. Carl Jung

Everything that is done in the world is done by hope. Martin Luther

Everything that is not mandatory is forbidden.

Everything that is written merely to please the author is worthless. Blaise Pascal

Everything that used to be a sin is now a disease. Bill Maher

Everything that we see is a shadow cast by that which we do not see. Martin Luther King, Jr.

Everything the philosopher asserts about man is basically no more than a statement about man within a very limited time span. A lack of historical sense is the congenital defect of all philosophers. Friedrich Nietzsche (1844-1900)

Everything which can be expressed in quantitative to apply the same approach to reality in its infinite concreteness. A self which has become a matter of calculation and management has ceased to be a self. It has become a thing. Paul Tillich (1886-1965)

Everything will come right in the end.

Everything worthwhile is mandatory, prohibited, or taxed.

Everything you decide to do costs more than first estimated. (Murphy's Third Law)

Everything you know for certain is wrong. (Sundqvist's First Law)

Everything you know is wrong.

Everything you know is wrong, but you can be straightened out.

Everything you need for better future and success has already been written. And guess what? All you have to do is go to the library. Jim Rohn

Everything you need you already have. You are complete right now, you are a whole, total person, not an apprentice person on the way to someplace else. Your completeness must be understood by you and experienced in your thoughts as your own personal reality. Wayne Dyer

Everything you see I owe to spaghetti. Sophia Loren

Everything you've learned in school as "obvious" becomes less and less obvious as you begin to study the universe. For example, there are no solids in the universe. There's not even a suggestion of a solid. There are no absolute continuums. There are no surfaces. There are no straight lines. R. Buckminster Fuller

Everything's coming up roses.

Everything's fine - just honky-tonky. Leo Rosten

Everytime I feel your heartbeat, it is a gentle reminder of the soul that lives within.

Everywhere children are schooled to become masters at answering questions and to remain novices at asking them. Dillon

Everywhere I go I'm asked if the universities stifle writers. My opinion is that they don't stifle enough of them. There's many a best seller that could have been prevented by a good teacher. Flannery O'Connor

Everywhere is walking distance if you have the time. Steven Wright

Evidently, then, our non-intellectual nature does influence our convictions. There are passionate tendencies and volitions which run before and others which come after belief, and it is only the latter that are too late for the fair; and they are not too late when the previous passionate work has been already in their own direction. William James (1842-1910)

Evil comes from the abuse of free will. C. S. Lewis

Evil communications corrupt good manners. New Testament

Evil Kneivel's record jump of 26 cars has just been broken by Amtrack.

Evolution is religious because it can't be proven.

Exaggerated sensitiveness is an expression of the feeling of inferiority. Alfred Adler

Exam is a four-letter word for torture...

Examinations are formidable even to the best prepared, for the greatest fool may ask more than the wisest man can answer. Charles Caleb Colton

Examine what is said, not him who speaks. Arabian Proverb

Example has more followers than reason. We unconsciously imitate what pleases us, and approximate to the characters we most admire. Christian Nestell Bovee

Example is always more efficacious than precept. Samuel Johnson (1709-1784)

Example is leadership. Albert Schweitzer

Example is not the main thing in influencing others. It is the only thing. Albert Schweitzer

Example is the school of mankind, and they will learn at no other. Edmund Burke

Examples of exaggeration can be found in almost any advertising medium. The use of the superlative is altogether too prevalent. 'The finest,' 'the best,' 'the greatest,' 'the purest,' 'the most economical,' and so on ad infinitum, are hurled at the public everywhere. Surely not all products of the same class can be the best or the finest. Daniel Starch

Excellence in any department can be attained only by the labor of a lifetime; it is not to be purchased at a lesser price. Samuel Johnson

Excellence is a better teacher than mediocrity. The lessons of the ordinary are everywhere. Truly profound and original insights are to be found only in studying the exemplary. Warren G. Bennis (1925-)

Excellence is an option that is renewable.

Excellence is in the details. Give attention to the details and excellence will come. Perry Paxton

Excellence is the result of caring more than others think is wise; risking more than others think is safe; dreaming more than others think is practical; and expecting more than others think is possible.

Excellent day to have a rotten day.

Excellent things are hard to come by. John Clarke

Except during the nine months before he draws his first breath, no man manages his affairs as well as a tree does. George Bernard Shaw (1856-1950)

Except for an occasional heart attack I feel as young as I ever did. Robert Benchley

Except for the meaning you put into it, your life is empty and meaningless. And it is empty and meaningless that it is empty and meaningless. Werner Erhard

Exceptions are pernicious because they conceal laws. Henri Poincaré

Exceptions always outnumber rules.

Exceptions prove the rule, and wreck the budget. (Miller's Law)

Excess of grief for the dead is madness; for it is an injury to the living, and the dead know it not. Xenophon

Excess on occasion is exhilarating. It prevents moderation from acquiring the deadening effect of a habit. W. Somerset Maugham

Exciting plays only occur when you are watching the scoreboard or buying food. (Moser's Law of Sports)

Exclusive: We are the only ones who have the documentation.

Excuse me, while I kiss the sky... Jimi Hendrix

Excuses are the easiest things to manufacture, and the hardest things to sell.

Executive: A man who talks to the visitors while others are doing the work.

Executive ability is deciding quickly and getting somebody else to do the work. John G. Pollard

Executive ability is prominent in your make-up.

Exercise caution in your daily affairs.

Exercise extends your life ten years, but you spend 15 of them doing it.

Exercise is bunk. If you are healthy, you don't need it; if you are sick, you shouldn't take it. Henry Ford

Exercise: To walk up and down a mall, occasionally resting to make a purchase.

Exiles feed on hope. Aeschylus (525-456 BC)

Existence is a strange bargain. Life owes us little; we owe it everything. The only true happiness comes from squandering ourselves for a purpose. Cowper (1731-1800)

Existentialism is nothing less than an attempt to draw all the consequences of a coherent atheistic position. It isn't trying to plunge man into despair at all. But if one calls every attitude of unbelief despair, like the Christians, then the word is not being used in its original sense. Existentialism isn't so atheistic that it wears itself out showing that God doesn't exist. Rather, it declares that even if God did exist, that would change nothing. There you've got our point of view. Not that we believe that God exists, but we think that the problem of His existence is not the issue. In this sense, existentialism is optimistic, a doctrine of action, and it is plain dishonesty for Christians to make no distinction between their own despair and ours and then to call us despairing. Jean-Paul Sartre (1905-1980)

Expansion means complexity, and complexity decays.

Expect a letter from a friend who will ask a favor of you.

Expect nothing. Live frugally on surprise. Alice Walker

Expect people to do better than they are... it helps them to become better; but, don't be disappointed when they are not - it helps them to keep trying.

Expect problems and eat them for breakfast. Alfred A. Montapert

Expectations should not determine whether or not one acts, nor how.

Expecting the world to treat you fairly because you are a good person is a little like expecting the bull not to attack you because you are a vegetarian. Dennis Wholey

Expenditure always rises to meet income. Cyril Northcote Parkinson

Expenditures rise to meet income. (Parkinson's Second Law)

Expense Accounts: Corporate food stamps.

Expensive fertilizers that do nothing for your grass will give you the most gorgeous weeds you ever saw.

Expensive, well-executed, and familiar ads convince the investors, as nothing in the black and white tables of assets and debits can, that the company is important and prosperous. Michael Schudson

Experience: A comb life gives you after you lose your hair. Judith Stern

Experience enables you to recognize a mistake when you make it again. Franklin P. Jones

Experience has taught me that advertisers get the best results when they pay their agency a flat fee...

It is unrealistic to expect your agency to be impartial when its vested interest lies wholly in the direction of increasing your commissionable advertising. David Ogilvy

Experience has taught me this, that we undo ourselves by impatience. Misfortunes have their life and their limits, their sickness and their health. Michel Eyquem De Montaigne

Experience increases our wisdom but doesn't reduce our follies. Josh Billings

Experience is a comb that life gives you after you lose your hair. Judith Stern

Experience is a comb which nature gives us when we are bald. Chinese Proverb

Experience is a good teacher, but submits huge bills.

Experience is a good school but the fees are high. Heinrich Heine

Experience is a good teacher but her fees are high.

Experience is a good teacher, but she sends in terrific bills. Minna Antrim

Experience is a great advantage. The problem is that when you get the experience, you're too damned old to do anything about it. Jimmy Connors

Experience is a hard teacher because she gives the test first, the lesson afterwards. (Vernon Saunders Law)

Experience is a school where a man learns what a big fool he has been. Josh Billings

Experience is a wonderful thing. It enables you to recognize a mistake when you make it again.

Experience is directly proportional to the amount of equipment ruined. Horner (Harrisberger's Fourth Law of the Lab)

Experience is good, if not bought too dear. English Proverb

Experience is never limited, and it is never complete; it is an immense sensibility, a kind of huge spider-web of the finest silken threads suspended in the chamber of consciousness, and catching every air-borne particle in its tissue. Henry James (1843-1916)

Experience is not always the kindest of teachers, but it is surely the best. Spanish Proverb

Experience is not what happens to a man. It is what a man does with what happens to him. Aldous Huxley

Experience is not what happens to you; it is what you do with what happens to you. Aldous Huxley (1894-1963)

Experience is often what you get when you were expecting something else.

Experience is one thing you can't get for nothing. Oscar Wilde

Experience is something you don't get until just after you need it. (Oliver's Law)

Experience is something you get too late to do anything about the mistakes you made while getting it.

Experience is sometimes dangerous. Florio

Experience is that marvelous thing that enables you recognize a mistake when you make it again. Franklin P. Jones

Experience is the best teacher.

Experience is the comb that nature gives us when we are bald. Belgian proverb

Experience is the father of knowledge.

Experience is the mother of wisdom.

Experience is the name everyone gives to their mistakes. Oscar Wilde

Experience is the worst teacher. It always gives the test first and the instruction afterward.

Experience is what allows us to repeat our mistakes, only with more finesse! Derwood Fincher

Experience is what causes a person to make new mistakes instead of old ones.

Experience is what you get when you didn't get what you wanted.

Experience is what you get when you don't get what you want.

Experience is what you get when you don't get what you want. Dan Stanford

Experience is what you get when you don't get what you wanted.

Experience is what you get when you were expecting something else.

Experience is what you got by not having it when you need it.

Experience keeps a dear school, yet Fools will learn in no other. Franklin

Experience should be a guide post, but not a hitching post.

Experience should teach us to be most on our guard to protect liberty when the government's purposes are beneficent. Louis D. Brandeis (1856-1941)

Experience shows that success is due less to ability than to zeal. The winner is he who gives himself to his work, body and soul. Charles Buxton (1823-1871)

Experience teaches only the teachable. Aldous Huxley

Experience teaches that a strong memory is generally joined to a weak judgment. Michel de Montaigne

Experience varies directly with equipment ruined.

Experience: What causes a person to make new mistakes instead of the same old ones.

Experience: What you get when you don't get what you want.

Experience without learning is better than learning without experience. Mapletoft

Experimentation is the mother of confusion.

Experiments should be reproducible. They should all fail in the same way. (Finagle's Fifth Rule)

Expert: A person who is never in doubt but often in error.

Expert: An ordinary man away from home giving advice. Oscar Wilde

Expert: Anyone from out of town.

Expert: Avoids the small errors while sweeping on to the grand fallacy.

Expert: Knows tomorrow why today's prediction failed.

Expert: Someone who knows more and more about less and less until he knows absolutely everything about nothing. Nicholas Murray Butler

Experts are people who know a great deal about very little and who go along learning more and more about less and less until they know practically everything about nothing.

Explaining the unknown by means of the unobservable is always a perilous business.

Exploit, or get exploited. B. J. Gupta

Express an opinion, but send advice by freight.

Expressing anger is a form of public littering. Willard Gaylin

Extinction is the ultimate fate of all species.

Extraordinary rains pretty generally fall after great battles. Plutarch (c.46-c.120 A. D.)

Extravagance is the luxury of the poor; penury is the luxury of the rich. Oscar Wilde

Extreme boredom serves to cure boredom.

Extreme fear can neither fight nor fly.

Extreme good-naturedness borders on weakness of character. Avoid it.

Extreme justice is often injustice. Racine

Extreme sorrow laughs; extreme joy weeps.

Extremely happy and extremely unhappy men are alike prone to grow hard-hearted.

Extremes meet and there is no better example than the haughtiness of humility. Ralph Waldo Emerson

Extremes, though contrary, have the like effects. Extreme heat kills, and so extreme cold: extreme love breeds satiety, and so extreme hatred; and too violent rigor tempts chastity, as does too much license. George Chapman

Eye for an eye, tooth for a tooth.

Eye is bigger than the belly.

Eye is the window of the heart.