Literature is the art of writing something that will be read twice; journalism what will be grasped at once. Cyril Connolly (1903-1974)

Some fun lines and famous quotations

Labels belong on jelly jars, they do not belong on people. Lawrence Brotherton

Labor disgraces no man, but occasionally men disgrace labor. Ulysses S. Grant

Labor disgraces no man, but often a man disgraces labor.

Labor disgraces no man; unfortunately you occasionally find men disgrace labor. Ulysses S. Grant (1822-1885)

Labor is man's greatest function. He is nothing, he can do nothing, he can achieve nothing, he can fulfill nothing, without working. Orville Dewey

Labor: One of the processes by which A acquires property for B. Ambrose Bierce

Labour in this country is independent and proud. It has not to ask the patronage of capital, but capital solicits the aid of labor. Daniel Webster (1782-1852)

Labour to keep alive in your breast that little spark of celestial fire, called conscience. George Washington

Lack of money is the root of all evil. George Bernard Shaw (1856-1950)

Lack of something to feel important about is almost the greatest tragedy a man may have. Arthur E. Morgan

Lactomangulation: Abusing the "open here" spout on a milk carton.

Lady Luck is an old lame woman; she can come only by hopping. She cannot keep appointments.

So, beware to open your door when she knocks at odd times. Mahatma Gandhi

Lady luck please let the dice stay hot / Let me shout a seven with ev'ry shot. Doc Pomus & Mort Shuman

Laetrile is the pits.

Lampis the shipowner, on being asked how he acquired his great wealth, replied, "My great wealth was acquired with no difficulty, but my small wealth, my first gains, with much labor." Epictetus (c. 55-135 A.D.)

Language has created the word loneliness to express the pain of being alone, and the word solitude to express the glory of being alone. Paul Tillich

Language is a city to the building of which every human being brought a stone. Mark Twain (1835-1910)

Language is a wonderful thing. It can be used to express thoughts, to conceal thoughts, but more often, to replace thinking. Kelly Fordyce

Language is only the instrument of science, and words are but the signs of ideas. Samuel Johnson

Language is the armory of the human mind, and at once contains the trophies of its past and the weapons of its future conquests. Samuel Taylor Coleridge (1772-1834)

Language is the blood of the soul into which thoughts run and out of which they grow. Oliver Wendell Holmes

Language is the dress of thought. Samuel Johnson

Language is the most powerful tool ever invented anywhere by anyone. Janet Asimov

Language shapes the way we think, and determines what we can think about. Benjamin Whorf

Large brains can contain small minds.

Last, but by no means least, couragemoral courage, the courage of one's convictions, the courage to see things through. The world is in a constant conspiracy against the brave. It's the age-old struggle; the roar of the crowd on one side and the voice of your conscience on the other. Douglas MacArthur

Last Halloween was bad for me. I got real beat up. I went to a party dressed as a Pinata. Jim Samuels

Last night I dreamed I had insomnia. I woke up exhausted, yet too well rested to go back to sleep. Bob Ingman

Last night I fell asleep in a satellite dish. My dreams were broadcast all over the world. Steven Wright

Last night I shot an elephant in my Pajamas and how he got in my pajamas I'll never know. Julius Henry (Groucho) Marx (1895-1977)

Last ship, best ship. English Proverb

Last Will and Testament: Being of sound mind, I spent all my money.

Late to bed and early to rise, and your head will feel five times its size. Louis A. Safian

Late to bed and early to rise makes a man tired by afternoon. Ann Patty and Patti Peterson

Late to bed and late to rise, That's the way of the college guys.

Late to bed, late to rise, who in the hell wants to be wise? C. Grant Loomis

Laugh alone and the world thinks you're an idiot. (Bumper Sticker)

Laugh and be fat. John Taylor (1580?-1684).

Laugh, and the world ignores you. Crying doesn't help either.

Laugh, and the world laughs at you. Peter Campbell

Laugh and the world laughs with you. Proverb

Laugh and the world laughs with you. Cry and the world laughs at you.

Laugh and the world laughs with you. Snore and you sleep alone. Anthony Burgess

Laugh and the world laughs with you, / Weep and you weep alone; / For the sad old earth must borrow its mirth, / But has trouble enough of its own. Ella Wheeler Wilcox (1855-1919)

Laugh at your problems; everybody else does.

Laugh at yourself, but don't ever aim your doubt at yourself. Be bold. When you embark for strange places, don't leave any of yourself safely on shore. Have the nerve to go into unexplored territory. Alan Alda

Laugh when you can; cry when you must.

Laugh with your whole heart and soul, with all the breath of life... laughter that comes from such a heart defeats the world. Sri Amanda Mayi Ma

Laughing at ourselves is possible when we are able to see humanity as it is - a little lower than the angels and at times only slightly higher than the apes. Tom Mullen

Laughing helps. It's like jogging on the inside.

Laughter is inner jogging. Norman Cousins

Laughter is like changing a baby's diaper. It doesn't permanently solve any problems, but it makes thing more acceptable for awhile.

Laughter is the best medicine. English Proverb

Laughter is the closest distance between two people. Victor Borge

Laughter is the language of the soul.

Laughter is the shortest distance between two people. Victor Borge

Laughter is the tonic, the relief, the surcease for pain. Charlie Chaplin

Laughter lube's life's engine.

Laughter... the no-side-effect tranquilizer.

Launch out into the deep. One discovers by living in scorn of consequence. Essie Summers

Law begins when someone takes to doing something someone else doesn't like. Karl Llewellyn

Law is order, and good law is good order. Aristotle

Law makers should not be law breakers.

Law remains long after justice flees.

Law school has been described as a place for the accumulation of learning. First-year students bring some in; third-year students take none away. Hence it accumulates. Daniel R. White

Law stands mute in the midst of arms.

Law, without force, is impotent. Pascal

Lawlessness is lawlessness. Anarchy is anarchy is anarchy. Neither race nor color nor frustration is an excuse for either lawlessness or anarchy. Thurgood Marshall

Laws are dumb in the midst of arms. Cicero

Laws are generally not understood by three sorts of persons: those that make them, those that execute them, and those that suffer if they break them. Halifax (1633-1695)

Laws are like sausages. It is better not to see them being made. Otto von Bismarck

Laws are spider webs through which the big flies pass and the little one got caught. Honoré de Balzac

Laws do not persuade just because they threaten. Lucius Annaeus Seneca

Laws grind the poor, and rich men rule the law. Goldsmith

Laws that do not embody public opinion can never be enforced. Elbert Hubbard

Lawyer: A person who writes a 10,000-word document and calls it a "brief".

Lawyer: Larval stage of Politician.

Lawyers are the only persons in whom ignorance of the law is not punished. Jeremy Bentham (1748-1832)

Laziness is nothing more than the habit of resting before you get tired. Jules Renard

Laziness may appear attractive, but work gives satisfaction. Anne Frank

Lazy: Motivationally deficient.

Lazy people should learn a lesson from the way ants live. Solomon

Lead in the atmosphere can affect one's I.Q. - especially if it drops on one's head.

Lead me not into temptation. I can find it myself.

Lead us not into temptation. Just tell us where it is; we'll find it. Sam Levenson

Leaders are like eagles, they don't flock together; you find them one at a time.

Leadership is the art of getting someone else to do something you want done because he wants to do it. Eisenhower (1890-1969)

Leadership is the capacity to translate vision into reality. Warren G. Bennis
Leadership is the other side of the coin of loneliness, and he who is a leader must always act alone.
And acting alone, accept everything alone. Ferdinand Edralin Marcos
Leadership: The art of getting someone else to do something you want done because he wants to do it. Dwight D. Eisenhower
Leak proof seals - will. Self-starters - will not. Interchangeable parts - won't.
Leakproof seals...do.
Learn all you can from the mistakes of others. You won't have time to make them all yourself.
Alfred Sheinwold
Learn as if you would live forever, live as if you would die tomorrow. Mahatma Gandhi
Learn from the mistakes of others - you can never live long enough to make them all yourself. John Luther
Learn from the past but don't dwell on it.
Learn from the past / Live for today / Look for tomorrow / Take a nap this afternoon.
Learn life's biggest lesson: Love, Forget & Forgive.
Learn that the advantage lieth not in possessing good things, but in the knowing the use of them.
Akhenaton? (c. B.C. 1375)
Learn the wisdom of compromise, for it is better to bend a little than to break. Jane Wells
Learn to be pleased with everything; with wealth, so far as it makes us beneficial to others; with poverty, for not having much to care for; and with obscurity, for being unenvied. Plutarch
Learn to be silent. Let your quiet mind listen and absorb. Pythagoras
Learn to listen, opportunity often knocks softly.
Learn to laugh at your troubles and you'll never run out of things to laugh at. Lyn Karol
Learn to love good books. There are treasures in books that all the money in the world cannot buy, but the poorest laborer can have for nothing. Robert G. Ingersoll
Learn to love the sky, the flowers, vegan lasagna, and skateboarding, and then you can love the sad eyed boys.
Learn to pause - or nothing worthwhile can catch up to you.
Learn to run when feeling the pain: then push harder. William Sigei
Learn to value yourself, which means: to fight for your happiness. Ayn Rand
Learned Institutions ought to be favorite objects with every free people. They throw that light over the public mind which is the best security against crafty & dangerous encroachments on the public liberty. James Madison
Learned men are the cisterns of knowledge, not the fountainheads.
Learning at some schools is like drinking from a firehose.
Learning is a treasure that will follow its owner everywhere. Chinese Proverb
Learning is acquired by reading books; but the much more necessary learning, the knowledge of the world, is only to be acquired by reading man, and studying all the various editions of them. Lord Chesterfield (1694-1773)
Learning is ever in the freshness of its youth, even for the old. Aeschylus (525-456 BC)

Leave no stone unturned. Euripides

Leave nothing but footprints.

Leave the matter of religion to the family altar, the church, and the private school, supported entirely by private contributions. Keep the church and the state forever separate. Ulysses S. Grant (1822-1885)

Leave the rest to the gods. Horace

Leave this hypocritical prating about the masses. Masses are rude, lame, unmade, pernicious in their demands and influence, and need not to be flattered, but to be schooled. I wish not to concede anything to them, but to tame, drill, divide, and break them up, and draw individuals out of them. Ralph Waldo Emerson (1803-1882)

Leave too much talking to women. Maltese Proverb

Lecture: A process by which the notes of the professor are passed to the pupils without passing through the brains of either.

Lecture: The process by which a tutor's notes are passed to a student without necessarily passing through the mind of either.

Left to themselves, things tend to go from bad to worse. (Murphy's Fifth Law)

Leftover nuts never match leftover bolts. (Murphy's Twenty-third Law)

Legislation should outlaw an advertiser's attempts to use its economic relationships with a media enterprise to influence the enterprise not to print or broadcast content that it would otherwise choose to present... There is little reason to allow this use of economic power to censor others' speech and to block the public's access to information or viewpoints. C. Edwin Baker

Legislators represent people, not trees or acres. Legislators are elected by voters, not farms or cities or economic interests. Earl Warren

Leisure is a beautiful garment, but it will not do for constant wear.

Leisure is the mother of Philosophy. Thomas Hobbes (1588-1679)

Lend and lose; so play fools. John Ray

Lend money to a bad debtor and he will hate you.

Lend your money and lose your friend. English Proverb

Let every dawn of morning be to you as the beginning of life. John Ruskin

Let every fox take care of his own tail. Italian Proverb

Let every man look before he leaps. Miguel de Cervantes (1547-1616)

Let every man mind his own business. Miguel de Cervantes (1547-1616)

Let every nation know, whether it wishes us well or ill, that we shall pay any price, bear any burden, meet any hardship, support any friend, oppose any foe, in order to assure the survival and the success of liberty. John Fitzgerald Kennedy

Let every one be sure to drive his own business, rather than to let it drive him. Codrington

Let go over a cliff, die completely, and then come back to life - after that you cannot be deceived.

Zen Saying

Let he who is without dangling participles throw the first stone.

Let him make use of instinct who cannot make use of reason. English Proverb

Let him that begins the song, make and end. Draxe

Let him that hath no power of patience retire within himself, though even there he will have to put up with himself. Baltasar Gracián

Let him that would move the world first move himself. Socrates

Let him who expects one class of society to prosper in the highest degree, while the other is in distress, try whether one side of the face can smile while the other is pinched. Thomas Fuller

Let him who takes the Plunge remember to return it by Tuesday.

Let him who would know how far he has changed the old Adam, consider his dreams. E. Fitzgerald

Let honesty and industry be thy constant companions, and spend one penny less than thy clear gains; then shall thy pocket begin to thrive; creditors will not insult, nor want oppress, nor hungerness bite, nor nakedness freeze thee. Benjamin Franklin

Let ignorance talk as it will, learning has its value. J. de La Fontaine (1621-1695)

Let it be borne on the flag under which we rally in every exigency, that we have one country, one constitution, one destiny. Daniel Webster

Let it be impressed upon your minds, let it be instilled into your children, that the liberty of the press is the palladium of all the civil, political, and religious rights. Junius

Let it be their claim, that if they have not discovered all truth, they have discovered and settled some truth - while they have not promulgated much error, or wasted their strength in rearing showy fabrics, admired in one age and taken down the next. James McCosh (1811-1894)

Let justice be done, though heaven fall (Fiat justitia, pereat coelum). My toast would be, may our country be always successful, but whether successful or otherwise, always right. John Quincy Adams (1767-1848)

Let life be short; else shame will be too long. William Shakespeare

Let love rule thy heart, logic rule thy mind and faith rule your soul.

Let me give you one word of advice: never give a sucker an even break. W. C. Fields

Let me leap out of the frying-pan into the fire; or, out of God's blessing into the warm sun. Miguel de Cervantes (1547-1616)

Let me make the superstitions of a nation and I care not who makes its laws or its songs either. Mark Twain

Let me see, as the blind man said.

Let me tell you about the very rich. They are different from you and me. They possess and enjoy early, and it does something to them, makes them soft where we are hard, and cynical where we are trustful, in a way that, unless you were born rich, it is very difficult to understand. F. Scott Fitzgerald

Let me tell you something that we Israelis have against Moses. He took us 40 years through the desert in order to bring us to the one spot in the Middle East that has no oil! Golda Meir (1898-1978)

Let me tell you the secret that has led me to my goal: my strength lies solely in my tenacity. Louis Pasteur (1822-1895)

Let my wealth be stored in vaults no earthly banker can unlock.

Let nature take her own course. Giovanni Torriano

Let nature take its course and hope it passes.

Let no man deceive you with vain words. Biblical Proverb

Let no one be satisfied with simple physical pleasure cause it doesn't approach fleeting bliss if one's soul still shrieks for it's mate and the love it is due.

Let no one say that I have said nothing new... the arrangement of the subject is new. When we play tennis, we both play with the same ball, but one of us places it better. Blaise Pascal

Let not our love be like a flower that dies. Instead let it be like a river that flows FOREVER!

Let not the sands of time get in your lunch.

Let not the sun go down upon your wrath. St. Paul

Let not your mind run on what you lack as much as on what you have already. Marcus Aurelius

Let not your sun go down on your wrath. St. Paul

Let other people praise you - even strangers; never do it yourself. Solomon

Let others lead small lives, but not you. Let others argue over small things, but not you. Let others cry over small hurts, but not you. Let others leave their future in someone else's hands, but not you. Jim Rohn

Let our advance worrying become advance thinking and planning. Winston Churchill

Let our object be our country, our whole country, and nothing but our country. Daniel Webster (1782-1852)

Let others complain that the times are wicked. I complain that they are paltry; for they are without passion. The thoughts of men are thin and frail like lace, and they themselves are feeble like girl lace-makers. The thoughts of their hearts are too puny to be sinful. Sören Kierkegaard (1813-1855)

Let patience grow in your garden always.

Let proportion be found not only in numbers and measures, but also in sounds, weights, times, and positions, and what ever force there is. Leonardo da Vinci

Let reason rule all your actions. Thomas Draxe

Let sleeping dogs lie. Leng-Tzu & English Proverb

Let sleeping ducks lie.

Let the buyer beware.

Let the child's first lesson be obedience, and the second will be what thou wilt. Benjamin Franklin

Let the cobbler stick to his last.

Let the end try the man. William Shakespeare

Let the errors and deceits of our very senses be set before us; the insuperable difficulties which attend first principles in all systems; the contradictions which adhere to the very ideas of matter, cause and effect, extension, space, time, motion; and in a word, quantity of all kinds, the object of the only science that can fairly pretend to any certainty or evidence. David Hume (1711-1776)

Let the love you feel in your heart release the tension in your soul.

Let the motive be in the deed and not in the event. Be not one whose motive for action is the hope of reward. Kreeshna

Let the mouth be the trap of your words. Zambian Proverb

Let the other guy have whatever he wants before the fight. Once the bell rings he's gonna be disappointed anyway. George Foreman

Let the people know the truth and the country is safe. Abraham Lincoln

Let the stoics say what they please, we do not eat for the good of living, but because the meat is savory and the appetite is keen. Ralph Waldo Emerson

Let the sword decide after the stratagem has failed. Arabian Proverb

Let the unlearned learn, and the learned delight in remembering. Horace

Let the word go forth from this time and place, to friend and foe alike, that the torch has been passed to a new generation of Americans. John Fitzgerald Kennedy

Let the world know you as you are, not as you think you should be. Fannie Brice

Let them hate, so long as they fear. Accius (170-c.86 BC)

Let there be no inscription upon my tomb; let no man write my epitaph: no man can write my epitaph. Robert Emmet (1780-1803)

Let there be spaces in your togetherness, and let the winds of the heavens dance between you. Love one another but make not a bond of love: let it rather be a moving sea between the shores of your souls. Fill each other's cup but drink not from one cup. Give one another of your bread but eat not from the same loaf. Sing and dance together and be joyous, but let each one of you be alone. Even as the strings of a lute are alone though they quiver with the same music. Give your hearts, but not into each other's keeping. Kahlil Gibran (1883-1931)

"Let thine occupations be few," saith the sage, "if thou wouldst lead a tranquil life." Marcus Aurelius Antoninus (121-180)

Let those love now, who never lov'd before; let those who always lov'd, now love the more.
Let thy speech be better than silence, or be silent. Dionysius the Elder

Let us at all times remember that all American citizens are brothers of a common country, and should dwell together in bonds of fraternal feeling. Abraham Lincoln

Let us be of good cheer, remembering that the misfortunes hardest to bear are those which never happen. James Russel Lowell

Let us be poised, and wise, and our own, today. Ralph Waldo Emerson

Let us be thankful for the fools. But for them the rest of us could not succeed. Mark Twain

Let us believe neither half of the good people tell us of ourselves, nor half the evil they say of others. John Petit-Senn

Let us beware of saying that death is the opposite of life. The living being is only a species of the dead, and a very rare species. Friedrich Nietzsche

Let us choose to believe something good can happen. J. Martin Kohe

Let us describe the education of our men... What then is the education to be? Perhaps we could hardly find a better than that which the experience of the past has already discovered, which consists, I believe, in gymnastic, for the body, and music for the mind. Plato (427?-347? B.C.)

Let us develop the resources of our land, call forth its powers, build up its institutions, promote all its great interests, and see whether we also, in our day and generation, may not perform something worthy to be remembered. Daniel Webster

Let us endeavor to live, so that when we die, even the undertaker will be sorry. Mark Twain (1835-1910)

Let us grant that the pursuit of mathematics is a divine madness of the human spirit, a refuge from the goading urgency of contingent happenings. Alfred Whitehead

Let us have a dagger between our teeth, a bomb in our hands, and an infinite scorn in our hearts. Benito Mussolini

Let us have faith that right makes might; and in that faith let us to the end dare to do our duty as we understand it. Abraham Lincoln

Let us have Wine and Women, Mirth and Laughter / Sermons and soda-water the day after. Lord Byron (1788-1824)

Let us never negotiate out of fear but let us never fear to negotiate. John F. Kennedy

Let us note that man is made in such a way that he seeks pleasure and shuns pain. From this source, I agree, come all the evils of society: war, slavery, monopoly, privilege; but from this source also come all the good things of life, since the satisfaction of wants and the avoidance of suffering are the motives of human action. Frederic Bastiat (1801-1850)

Let us so live that when we die even the undertaker will be sorry. Mark Twain

Let us make hay while the sun shines. Miguel de Cervantes (1547-1616)

Let us never negotiate out of fear, but let us never fear to negotiate. John Fitzgerald Kennedy

Let us not be content to wait and see what will happen, but give us the determination to make the right things happen. Peter Marshall

Let us not confuse stability with stagnation. Mary Jean LeTendre

Let us not look back in anger, nor forward in fear, but around in awareness. James Thurber

Let us not say, Every man is the architect of his own fortune; but let us say, Every man is the architect of his own character. George Dana Boardman

Let us overthrow the totems, break the taboos. Or better, let us consider them cancelled. Coldly, let us be intelligent. Pierre Trudeau

Let us permit nature to have her way. She understands her business better than we do. Michel Eyquem de Montaigne (1553-1592)

Let us put theology out of religion. Theology has always sent the worst to heaven, the best to hell. Robert Green Ingersoll

Let us so live that when we come to die even the undertaker will be sorry. Mark Twain

Let us, then, be up and doing, / With a heart for any fate; / Still achieving, still pursuing, / Learn to labor and to wait. Henry Wadsworth Longfellow

Let us therefore brace ourselves to our duty, and so bear ourselves that, if the British Empire and its Commonwealth lasts for a thousand years, men will still say, 'This was their finest hour.' Winston Churchill (1874-1965)

Let us weigh the gain and the loss in wagering that God is. Let us consider the two possibilities. If you gain, you gain all; if you lose, you lose nothing. Hesitate not, then, to wager that He is. Blaise Pascal

Let us work without theorizing, 'tis the only way to make life enduring. Voltaire (1694-1778)

Let wealth and commerce, laws and learning die, / But leave us still our old nobility. Lord John Manners

Let your friends be the friends of your deliberate choice.

Let your heart feel for the afflictions and distress of everyone, and let your hand give in proportion to your purse. George Washington (1732-1799)

Let your heart guide your head in evil matters. Spanish Proverb

Let your life lightly dance on the edges of Time like dew on the tip of a leaf. Rabindranath Tagore

Let your purse be your master.

Let your words be the very picture of your heart. John Wesley

Let your work brag about you.

Let yourself be open and life will be easier. A spoon of salt in a glass of water makes the water undrinkable. A spoon of salt in a lake is almost unnoticed. The Buddha

Let's assume the semester's over, so dying is a bad thing. Professor Ralph Noble

Let's do it my way and get it right the first time.

Let's face it, the world would be a boring place without oppressive governments. If we were free to do or say whatever we wanted, it wouldn't be exciting to do or say anything. James Maverick Cook

Let's gear our advertising to sell goods, but let's recognize also that advertising has a broad social responsibility. Leo Burnett

Let's get down to brass roots.

Let's make like a baby and head out.

Let's make like a Bakery truck and Move your buns.

Let's make like Tom and Cruise.
Let's make like traffic and jam.
Let's say you have $1,000,000 tied up in your little company and suddenly your advertising isn't working and sales are going down. And everything depends on it. Your future depends on it, your family's future depends on it, other people's families depend on it... Now, what do you want from me? Fine writing? Or do you want to see the goddamned sales curve stop moving down and start moving up? Rosser Reeves

Let's walk up to the preacher and let us say I do. Otis Blackwell & Elvis Presley

Liar: One who tells an unpleasant truth. Ambrose Bierce

Liars begin by imposing upon others, but end by deceiving themselves.

Liars have need of good memories.

Liberal: A conservative that has been smuggled by reality.

Liberal: A Conservative who has just been arrested.

Liberal: Someone too poor to be a capitalist and too rich to be a communist.

Liberalism is, I think, resurgent. One reason is that more and more people are so painfully aware of the alternative. John Kenneth Galbraith

Liberalism is trust of the people tempered by prudence; Conservatism is distrust of the people tempered by fear. William E. Gladstone

Liberalism seems to be related to the distance people are from the problem. Whitney M. Young, Jr. (1921-1971)

Liberals carry less weight in the world than the worthiness of their cause deserves. Janet Asimov

Liberals don't much like commercial speech because it's commercial; conservatives mistrust it because it's speech. Alex Kozinski & Stuart Banner

Liberty and Union, now and forever, one and inseparable. Daniel Webster (1782-1852)

Liberty cannot be preserved without a general knowledge among the people. John Adams (1735-1826)

Liberty consists in wholesome restraint. Daniel Webster

Liberty doesn't work as well in practice as it does in speeches. Will Rogers

Liberty exists in proportion to wholesome restraint. Daniel Webster (1782-1852)

Liberty has never come from the government. Liberty has always come from the subjects of it. The history of liberty is a history of resistance. The history of liberty is a history of limitations of governmental power, not the increase of it. Nadia Boulanger

Liberty is always dangerous, but it is the safest thing we have. Harry Emerson Fosdick

Liberty is one of the most valuable blessings that Heaven has bestowed upon mankind. Miguel de Cervantes (1547-1616)

Liberty is the most jealous and exacting mistress that can beguile the soul and brain of man. Clarence Darrow (1857-1938)

Liberty is the only thing you cannot have unless you are willing to give it to others. William Allen White

Liberty is the only thing you can't have unless you give it to others. William Allen White

Liberty, not communism, is the most contagious force in the world. Earl Warren

Lick honey with your little finger.

Lie: A very poor substitute for the truth, but the only one discovered to date.

Lies have short legs.

Life: A brief interlude between nothingness and eternity.

Life affords no higher pleasure than that of surmounting difficulties, passing from one step of success to another, forming new wishes and seeing them gratified. Samuel Johnson

Life and liberty are safe only when congress is in recess.

Life at any time can become difficult: life at any time can become easy. It all depends upon how one adjusts oneself to life. Morarji Desai

Life beats down and crushes the soul and art reminds you that you have one. Stella Adler

Life begins at the centerfold and expands outward.

Life belongs to the living, and he who lives must be prepared for changes. Johann Wolfgang von Goethe

Life breaks us all, but afterwards, many of us are strongest at the broken places. Ernest Hemingway

Life can be great if you live it to the fullest.

Life can only be understood backward, but it must be lived forward. Sören Kierkegaard (1813-1855)

Life can only be understood backwards, but it must be lived forwards. Kierkegaard

Life cannot subsist in society but by reciprocal concessions. Samuel Johnson

Life comes and goes but Love will last forever.

Life comes before literature, as the material always comes before the work. Phillips Brooks (1835-1893)(1835-1893)

Life consists of many little things, but to do them well is a big thing. I. K. Wilson

Life consists of what a man is thinking of all day. Emerson

Life does not cease to be funny when people die any more than it ceases to be serious when people laugh. George Bernard Shaw (1856-1950)

Life doesn't come with subtitles.

Life forms illogical patterns. It is haphazard and full of beauties which I try to catch as they fly by, for who knows whether any of them will ever return? Dame Margot Fonteyn (1919-1991)

Life gives us time but only love gives us meaning.

Life has no other discipline to impose, if we would but realize it, than to accept life unquestioningly. Everything we shut our eyes to, everything we run away from, everything we deny, denigrate, or despise, serves to defeat us in the end. What seems nasty, painful, evil, can become a source of beauty, joy, and strength, if faced with an open mind. Every moment is a golden one for him who has the vision to recognize it as such. Henry Miller

Life imitates art far more than art imitates life. Oscar Wilde

Life improves slowly and goes wrong fast, and only catastrophe is clearly visible. Edward Teller

Life in the twentieth century is like a parachute jump: you have to get it right the first time.

Margaret Mead

Life is 10% what happens to you, and 90% how you react to it. Charles Swindoll Hope

Life is 6 to 5 against. Damon Runyon

Life is a succession of lessons, which must be lived to be understood. Helen Keller & Ralph Waldo Emerson

Life is a temporary assignment.

Life is a terminal condition.

Life is a Test. It is only a test. If this were your actual life you would be given better instructions.

Life is a tough proposition, and the first hundred years are the hardest. Wilson Mizner

Life is a tragedy for those who feel, and a comedy for those who think. Jean de La Bruyère & Chinese Proverb

Life is a warfare, and a stranger's sojourn, And after fame is oblivion. Marcus Aurelius Antoninus

Life is a whole series of circumstances beyond your control. (Van Roy's Truism)

Life is a wonderful thing to talk about, or to read about in history books - but it is terrible when one has to live it. Jean Anouilh (1910-1987)

Life is action and passion; therefore, it is required of a man that he should share the passion and action of the time, at peril of being judged not to have lived. Oliver Wendell Holmes

Life is an echo. What you send out - you get back. What you give - you get.

Life is an endless struggle full of frustrations and challenges, but eventually you find a hair stylist you like.

Life is an offensive, directed against the repetitious mechanism of the Universe. Alfred Whitehead

Life is an open book, don't close it before its done!

Life is an operation which is done in a forward direction. One lives toward the future, because to live consists inexorably in doing, in each individual life making itself. Jose Ortega y Gasset (1883-1955)

Life is either a great adventure or nothing. Helen Keller

Life is far too important a thing ever to talk seriously about.

Life is for one generation; a good name is forever. Japanese Proverb

Life is fragile. Cherish that which you love.

Life is fraught with opportunities to keep your mouth shut.

Life is full of infinite absurdities, which, strangely enough, do not even need to appear plausible, since they are true. Luigi Pirandello

Life is half spent before we know what it is.

Life is hard, no one makes it out alive.

Life is hard. Then you die. Then they throw dirt in your face. Then the worms eat you. Be grateful it happens in that order. David Gerrold

Life is hard - wear a helmet.

Life is just a bowl of cherries. Lew Brown (1893-1958) & Ray Henderson

Life is just a mirror, and what you see out there, you must first see inside yourself. Jacob Bigelow

Life is just a stage we all go through it. John Quill Taylor

Life is just an appetizer.

Life is like a box of chocolates. Tom Hanks

Life is like a box of chocolates; you never know when you'll find a nut.

Life is like a cash register, in that every account, every thought, every deed, like every sale, is registered and recorded. Fulton J. Sheen

Life is like a fountain... I will tell you how when I figure it out.

Life is like a game of cards. Once you learn how to play, you're already lost in the shuffle.

Life is like a game of cards. The hand that is dealt you represents determinism; the way you play it is free will. Jawaharlal Nehru

Loneliness is the most terrible poverty. Mother Teresa

Loneliness is the universal problem of rich people. Joan Collins

Lonely is a man without love.

Long a widow weds with shame. English Proverb

Long absent - soon forgotten. Romanian Proverb

Long chains of perfectly simple and easy reasonings by means of which geometers are accustomed to carry out their most difficult demonstrations had led me to fancy that everything that can fall under human knowledge forms a similar sequence; and that so long as we avoid accepting as true what is not so, and always preserve the right order of deduction of one thing from another, there can be nothing too remote to be reached in the end, or too well hidden to be discovered. René Descartes (1596-1650)

Long life has long misery.

Long live the mediocrities. Without them how would there be geniuses. Eugene Garfield

Long stormy spring-time, wet contentious April, winter chilling the lap of very May; but at length the season of summer does come. Thomas Carlyle (1795-1881)

Lord, defend me from my friends; I can account for my enemies. D'Hericauld

Lord, dismiss us with thy blessing, / Hope, and comfort from above; / Let us each, thy peace possessing, / Triumph in redeeming love. Robert Hawker (1753-1827)

Lord grant me the serenity to accept the things I cannot change, the courage to change the things I can, and the wisdom to hide the bodies of those people I had to kill because they pissed me off.

Lord grant me the serenity to accept the things I cannot change, the courage to change the things I can, and the wisdom to know the difference. St. Francis of Assisi

Lord, grant that I may always desire more than I accomplish. Michelangelo Buonarroti (1474-1564)

Lord, may others treat me tomorrow as I have treated them today.

Lord, please make me the kind of person my dog thinks I am.

Lord, What fools these mortals be! William Shakespeare (1564-1616)

Lose an hour in the morning, and you will spend all day looking for it. Richard Whately

Lose nothing for asking.

Lose weight - eat stuff you hate.

Lose weight - put a scale in front of the 'frig.

Losing makes winning worthwhile. Reyer

Losing your drivers' license is just God's way of saying "BOOGA, BOOGA!"

Loss embraces shame. George Herbert

Lost causes are the only ones worth fighting for.

Lost time is never found again. John H. Aughey

Lost, yesterday, somewhere between sunrise and sunset, two golden hours, each set with sixty diamond minutes. No reward is offered for they are gone forever. Horace Mann

Lots of comedians have people they try to mimic. I mimic my shadow. Steven Wright

Lots of fellows think a home is only good to borrow money on. Kin Hubbard

Lots of folks confuse bad management with destiny. Kin Hubbard

Lots of folks wouldn't look as old as they do if they didn't act as young as they do. N. Digiovanni

Love and scandal are the best sweeteners of tea.

Love and stoplights can be cruel.

Love and work are the cornerstones of our humanness. Sigmund Freud

Love anything and your heart will be wrung and possibly broken. If you want to make sure of keeping it intact you must give it to no one, not even an animal. Wrap it carefully round with hobbies and little luxuries; avoid all entanglements. Lock it up save in the casket or coffin of your selfishness. But in that casket - safe, dark, motionless, airless - it will change. It will not be broken; it will become unbreakable, impenetrable, irredeemable. To love is to be vulnerable. C.S. Lewis

Love asks faith, and faith asks firmness. George Herbert
Love at first sight is one of the greatest labor-saving devices the world has ever seen.
